WATERFRONT WHIFFS
Doings of the Mosquito Fleet which is the chief source of Prince Rupert's prosperity

While the arrivals this week have had a tendency to fall off, as is usual at this time of the year, the amount of fish landed has been well up to standard and the Admiral of the mosquito fleet is quite satisfied with the amount of work done. At this season it is usual for the larger American schooners to hike to their home ports in the south in which there is a two fold idea. The first is to see their loved ones at home and the second idea is to put their trusty crafts through a general overhaul preparatory to returning north for the fall and heavier weather. The salmon arrivals have been heavier this week than for any previous week this season and a fleet of the little fellows have landed 23,400 pounds of red and 200 pounds of white salmon, good prices prevailing for their catches. During the week a number of trolling boats have left port to join the various cannery fleets and with the coming of warmer weather, the sockeye and coho season will soon be under way. Prices for home catch of halibut have been well maintained especially for second class fish which has brought the same price as American, the Canadian market being firm. Incoming skippers report that previous to Thursday the weather on the high spots had not been of the best and that cold winds had been general which had interfered a great deal with the run of fish. However, it had considerably improved towards the latter part of the week and real summer weather is expected from now on.

I-Go Sprucing Up
The I-Go, Capt. Geo. Naas, the man who named the Naas river, is the latest addition to the fighting arm of the Mosquito fleet and is at present being refitted and re-armed while at anchor in Cow Bay. The I-Go was formerly in the trolling service but her speed was so great that she always kept ahead of the salmon which could not swim fast enough to catch up with the hook. This got to the ears of the Admiral who ordered her to be armed as a sub-chaser and taken on the commissioned list of the fighting forces of the fleet. Secret service authorities state that it has been learned on good authority that the Salvus navy is looking with longing eyes on the Cow Bay base and the old man means to be well prepared for eventualities. The decks of the I-Go are being repainted and the mast tops are being copper painted to keep the rain out of the engine room. She will be armed with the same guns as were used by the underground artillery in the late war. These are reputed to be able to fire around the corners.

Kelpie Out Again
The sailing schooner Kelpie, owned by Bill the Diver, which has been interned in Bone Yard Creek for the past while as a penalty for going and sinking in the big storm which struck the waterfront some months ago, has been released. The Kelpie is now being overhauled by her skipper. Two masts are to be erected thereon and one sail. The idea is that if one of the masts breaks again the sail can be transferred quickly to the other mast. This is called duplicating the power. When the overhaul has been completed it is said that Bill will hike for the Mackenzie river district for the purpose of trapping Eskimos for side shows. This is a new idea but there may be money in it at that.

Narbethong's Good Trip
The launch Narbethong, skipper Hoopes K. Freeman, returned on Wednesday night last from a successful trip to Surf Inlet to which point he had been with a party of loggers for the J. R. Morzan Logging Co. The new pilot house proved a great success and its height permitted her skipper to listen in on the radio broadcasting sent out from Vancouver to Timbuctoo.

Maevie Out Trouting
The wonderfish of the fleet, the Maevie, owned and sort of run by skipper McDonald of the fire hall staff, was out to Shawatlans Lake with a band of hope party during the week. The outgoing trip was a splendid one and the flywheel came off only twice. It is learned on very high authority that the party between them caught some forty eight trout none of which were second hand. It is said that Mae would tour the globe in his craft if the world was not quite so large and kind of awkward.

McLean's Yards Busy
The N. M. McLean shipyard is a veritable hive of industry. In addition to the White Lily, which is on the ways awaiting new power installation, the new Oh Baby is being remodelled and the Road, Capt. John Prescott is being all dressed up for the fishing fray. The Oh Baby is being refitted inside and additional tim-

Egg Runners Arrive
A fleet of egg runners from Poreber Island have into port early in the week. The fleet included the power boats Peggy, Royal HL, and Bertha G. A little competition took place between the egg runners on the incoming trip. It was thought that the first boat to arrive would be able to ask a better price for the table confection on account of superior freshness and that is what started the race. Terrific speed was maintained by all three competitors and little advantage could be gained by any boat. The result was that, upon tying up a Cow Bay, the skippers were surprised to find that the vibration of the boats had turned several cases of eggs into custard. However, the remainder soon found ready purchasers in town.

Billy Thane Gets Logs
It is reported that Capt. Billy Thane, owner of the power boat Silver Spray and similar nautical contrivances, together with Vic Marekland of the Cub, and several other gentlemen of the sea, have recovered some 200,000 feet of logs from the boom which recently broke away from the tug Lorne during a storm off Bonila Island. These beachcomb logs should net the salvage operators something like $2,000 which speaks well for their enterprising spirit.

bers have been placed in her hull giving her a little more height. When the 15 h.p. Sterling engine is installed, and she gets under the way the water in the bay is liable to be churned out and we'll then be able to walk across to the Salt Lakes. Anyone wishing to use a boat on the bay had better hurry up before Sunday while the water is there. On Sunday the newly acquired Oh Baby will be churning up the foam and forming a miniature tidal wave. On the trial trip there is to be great festivities and gilt edged invitation cards are already being sent out by Polly Puff of the admiralty staff to a select few.

Lumber from Georgetown
The tug McCulloch, Capt. Clifton, arrived in port on Thursday with two scow loads of lumber. One scow load is for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and the other is for the Big Bay Lumber Co.'s requirements.
