QUEEN CHARLOTTES

....One of the large tankers left Buckley Bay, on Thursday loaded with cants and bound for Los Angeles.

Severe storms raged on the islands for several days during the early part of November.

The light on the sand point at Massett inlet was wrecked during the stormy weather on the 13th.

Dr. Cecil E. Dunn spent a few days at Buckley Bay during the time Dr. John A. Briggs was engaged at Prince Rupert as a witness in the trial of the Japanese, recently tried for murder of a fellow countryman Dr. Dunn has been appointed resident medical officer for the Massett Indians.

Henry Haldine, an Evangelist from Matlakatla, is conducting religious meetings at Massett Under his direction the Indians held a sacred concert on Saturday night which was well attended.

Captain Babington is on a visit to the recently erected razor clam cannery at Hielen river, a few miles north of Massett. The first shipment of these bivalves found a ready market.

The Indians are making no attempt to salvage the cargo of the wrecked steamer Kennicott, weather conditions have been unfavorable along the west coast of Graham island.

Post offices are to be established at Woden river and on Massett Indian Reserve. Frank Van Volkenburg will be the resident postmaster, at Woden river while W. J. E. Pamplin will conduct the post office at Attawas, the name selected for the post office on Massett reserve.

Rev. James Gillett held Thanksgiving service at Buckley Bay on the 11th inst. On the following evening a moving picture entertainment, with other specialties, was conducted by the Rev. J. Gillett in the Social Hall of the Massett Timber Company at Buckley Bay.

Rev. William Allen, of Skidegate, is making arrangements for a concert to be held at Skidegate Mission towards the end of November. Local talent will be augmented by a number of vocalists, from other portions of the islands. The Skidegates have a brass band and orchestra composed of natives.

Mr. Blackstock, of the government telegraph service, is re-building and re-arranging the telegraph line between Massett and Skidegate; from Massett to Port Clements, the line is being constructed along the beach, instead of through the forest.

SKIDEGATE INLET

Geo. McRae, fisheries guardian at Cumshewa, arrived here on Saturday. Mr. McRae experienced heavy weather throughout the trip from Cumshewa.

Mrs. W. J. Smith has left for Vancouver where she will visit friends.

The Inlet is now having its annual fall of rain. The record shows for the last fifteen days thirteen inches, one day they had 2.80 inches. The Dominion government lineman at Ti-Ell has to use a raft in order to follow his line along the new Port Clements-Ti-Ell road. Its a kind of floating proposition he says.

Mrs. Smith of Vancouver, arrived last steamer to take charge of the Queen Charlotte School during the absence of Miss Miller.

Mrs. A. T. Harrison of Aliford Bay was in town recently visiting friends.

Mission launch "Thos. Crosby" departed last week on a trip to Cape St. James and intermediate points.

Provincial Constable Harry Martin returned by the Prince Rupert Saturday afternoon after having made a trip south escorting prisoners to the penitentiary at New Westminster.

Sport Chat

That some real snappy contests are in store for basketball fans this season was made evident in the close manner with which the opening league games were played last Friday evening. After two splendid matches in the Intermediate and Ladies' classes, the spectators were treated to a real climax in the Senior game which had to be decided with extra time between the Sons of Canada and the Colts. These two teams are just about evenly enough balanced to make every meeting they will have this winter very keen.

In this evening's games new teams will be introduced in both the Ladies' and Intermediate League. In the former the Teachers will take the floor against the Kaiens while the Regiment and High School will tangle for the first time in the latter. By reason of the fact that considerable new talent will be presented, special interest will attach to these games. In the Senior League, the Teachers, making their first appearance of the season, will be pitted against the Colts who are out to get revenge for their narrow defeat in the opener.

While the Elks' Home has the makings of a very suitable venue for the basketball games, it was found last Friday that many of the large crowd of spectators could not obtain a very good view of the play. This defect will have to be remedied and more advantageous accommodation for the fans will have to be provided especially in view of the fact that general interest in the progress of the competitions gives promise of increasing rather than diminishing as the season advances. It is understood that the Elks have this matter in hand and intend to increase the accommodation in the gallery by means of tiers of seats.
