by more than 300,000 in the contest conducted by the Photoplay Magazine. Fairbanks will receive the gold medal, which is annually offered. It will be inscribed: "To Douglas Fairbanks for the Production of Robin Hood."

In France and Mexico the "fans" there also voted the Fairbanks production first honors. The contests were conducted by the leading "fan" magazines of the two countries and a certificate of the vote has been forwarded to Fairbanks.

When voting, the people were asked to consider every angle of the picture—the acting, the settings, the appeal, the story and the photography. In each instance "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" received the majority of the votes.

REX BEACH STORY IS SHOWN AT WEEK END

"The Spoilers" Best Known of Alaskan Stories Has Been Refilmed

"The Spoilers" to be shown here at the week-end, is the greatest story about the Klondike gold rush ever written, and one of the most widely read American novels. It established Rex Beach's reputation as one of our most virile authors, and started the school of bull-of-door writers who have been so popular in American magazines and books in the past decade, a school in which no one has surpassed Mr. Beach. Then, too, "The Spoilers" is a true picture of early Alaskan history. It's story of Alexander McManara who attempted to jump the claims of men who discovered and worked the richest mine in the Klondike with the support of a corrupted court, is taken directly from life. It is a true and wonderfully dramatic presentation of one of the most picturesque epochs in our natural life, and an epoch which will never return. No more rugged picture of a sturdy people fighting against nature to wrest her treasures from her has been written.

When Rex Beach's novel was first pictured, ten years ago by Colonel Selig, it was the most talked about and the biggest financial success that the films had ever known. But since that time, motion pictures have made gigantic strides forward in technique, in direction, in settings and acting, and this new screen version of "The Spoilers" is as far ahead of the original one as that production was ahead of the other features of that day.

THE LOVE PIKER IS STORY OF SNOBBISH GIRL WHO REFORMS

The love story runs smoothly until one day the boy takes his fiancée down into the poor quarters of the town to visit his old Dutch father who lives in a shanty, smokes a corncob pipe and is surrounded by his dog cat and parrot. After meeting him the girl is almost on the point of breaking her engagement but finally decides to go through with it. However, when it comes to the wedding she knows she should invite her prospective father-in-law but hasn't the nerve.

Boys Adopts a Father and Falls in Love Wealthy Girl: Human Interest

How a gruff old man learns to love children and the world when past sixty, is one of the absorbingly human angles of "Children of the Dust," which opens at the Westholme Theatre Wednesday.

Archer, the old man beats a boy severely for stealing a flower for his mother, and is imprisoned. Upon his release the boy adopts Archer. Then follows the enthralling story of the lad's latter life; of his love for a wealthy girl, of his rival
