PROSPECTS FOR 1923 BASEBALL

Managers of New York Teams Confident that Their Players Will Again Capture Pennants

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Interest among the big baseball league fans is centered largely in the prospects of the New York Giants and Yankees repeating their triumphs of the past two seasons in the face of increasing strength among several of their more dangerous rivals.

While they are not discounting the opposition they will encounter this year, Managers McGraw, of the Giants, and Huggins, of the Yankees, are confident their teams will keep the National and American League pennants in the same city for the third straight year.

Both pilots declare their teams will be decidedly stronger, although they plan relatively little rebuilding. The Pittsburgh Pirates, in McGraw's opinion, loom as the club the Giants must eliminate to stay at the top of the heap, while the Yankee leaders expect his strongest battle from Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers.

McGraw has announced that he will stand pat on his 1922 championship line-up, with the possible exception of center-field, devoting most of his attention to bolstering weaknesses in the pitching staff which nearly cost the club the pennant last season. Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 "phenom" from San Francisco, is expected to fill the berth in midfield, but McGraw will give the veteran Casey Stengel whose come-back was a sensation last year, and Bill Cunningham on opportunity to contest for the job with the coast youngster.

Jack Bentley, another expensive acquisition, is expected to add considerable strength to the pitching corps. Bentley starred both as a portside slinger and slugger with the Baltimore Orioles for several years, but his work with the champions will be confined to the mound, according to McGraw. The giant leader has a dozen or more recruits from which he hopes to weed out another twirling star. He also looks for decided improvement from his veterans—Hugh McQuillan, Jack Scott, Art Nehf and Jess Barnes—besides greater effectiveness from younger moundmen like Bill Ryan, Claude Jonnard and Virgil Barnes.

Pittsburgh Dangerous Pittsburgh's veteran and hard-hitting aggregation, in McGraw's belief, will prove a formidable obstacle, under the leadership of Bill McKenzie, who took the Pirate helm mid-season last year and developed the club into a dangerous contender in the closing month of the campaign. Cincinnati, reorganized with a brilliant young infield and good pitching, also figures strongly in McGraw's calculations, while the Chicago Cubs, with a pitching staff above the ordinary, promise to bear watching.

Higgins bases much of his confidence in 1923 prospects upon his belief that the Yankee pitching staff, the deciding factor in last year's race, will be even more constant this year and that Babe Ruth, if he returns to 1921 form, will bolster the morale and attacking

Higgins' Views

The diminutive pilot figures Carl Mays and Sam Jones, whose pitching was a disappointment last season, will flash old-time form, while Bob Shawkey and Joe Bush, 1922 mainstays, will be more effective than ever. Ruth's determination to regain the home-run hitting laurels he lost last year has been demonstrated by the strict program of conditioning to which he adhered during the winter on his Massachusetts farm.

The Tiger, formidable last season, will be much stronger, according to the Yankee view, as a result of the acquisition of Del Pratt, veteran second baseman, and Rip Collins, southpaw twirler, from the Red Sox in exchange for Howard Ehmke, pitcher. Cobb has an unusual array of heavy hitters, flanked by a promising corps of young pitchers—a combination which will be hard to keep from the top.

The St. Louis Browns, unless they are strengthened in several positions, are not rated as high as last year, when they finished just a game behind the Yankees in a thrilling finish, nor as dangerous as the Tigers.

The Chicago White Sox, with a team that developed fast last year and boaster a brilliant string of young pitchers, and Connie Mack's Athletics, who are about due to emerge from the depths, may figure prominently in this season's pennant chase.

Herding the approach of spring and another diamond campaign, advance caravans of nearly all the sixteen National and American League Baseball clubs are now on their way south for the annual conditioning process. Training camps, scattered in lands of the palmetto and cactus from Florida to Catalina Island, California, will be in full swing for all the clubs by the second week in March. of conditioning and exhibition pastings will mean shedding excess poundage acquired during the winter lay-off and limbering up for competition with eager and ambitious recruits, hundreds of whom will strive for big league positions for the first time in their careers. This rivalry for regular berths promises to be especially keen among several clubs going through a marked process of re-organization, including the Cleveland and Boston Americans, and the Brooklyn, Chicago and St. Louis Nationals.

Florida is the most popular training ground this year, seven clubs choosing the Everglades state for their conditioning. Texas, Alabama and Arkansas each have two clubs in their confines while Louisiana, Georgia and California each have one.
