ANTI-BRITISH DEMONSTRATION NEW YORK

HALIBUT SCHOONER SANK AFTER STRIKING OBSTACLE SOUTH OF THIS PORT

Demonstration of Women Against Lloyd George was Broken up by the Police in New York; Banners Torn

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—That unhappiness and difficulties resulting from the war have been caused by the improper or ineffective operation of the Treaty of Versailles, David Lloyd George, former Premier of Great Britain declared today on his arrival aboard the Mauretania en route to Canada.

Police reserves broke up a parade of women carrying banners denouncing Great Britain outside the city hall where a crowd of several thousand persons had gathered to greet the former British premier on his first visit to America. Some banners had "Don't let England pull wool over our eyes," and "British bootleggers flooding America with British booze."

The police grabbed the banners and tore them into shreds.

During the melee automobiles paraded outskirts of the crowd circulating anti-Lloyd George statements. A woman struck a police sergeant over the head with a banner she was carrying and was taken into custody. The women said they were members of the American Association for the recognition of the Irish republic. One of the banners read "Lloyd George's Black and Tan's are here," and "Lloyd George's hands are red with the blood of women and children."

Fifty police reserves were called out.

The first cleanup from the mine Airship this year proved greater than was expected, the owners of the property reported.

This year's output in gold is more than double that of last year, the mining companies declare in a statement. The first payroll in the history of Fairbanks came with the finishing of the railroad. The new depot has been completed and work has been started on terminals valued at $500,000.

THREW MATCH INTO SEA; STARTED FIRE

Serious Conflagration Narrowly
Averted on Waterfront
Yesterday Afternoon

What might have been a serious fire causing much damage to property was narrowly averted on the waterfront yesterday afternoon.

Gasoline had been spilled on the surface of the water from pumping the snow at the Prince Rupert Boat House. A passer-by coming along threw a match into the water after lighting his pipe and the combustible liquid still floating immediately ignited. The flames ran up on to the snow occasioning a great deal of smoke and coming perilously close to large quantities of distillate and benzol. Fortunately the flames were overcome through the use of an extinguisher in the hands of Capt. Swanson before there was any serious results.

The man who threw the match is now wondering what he will do with his match ends since the sea is found to be unsafe.

ARSENIC NOT IN QUANTITY

Dr. Hanson Says May be Mined Profitably with Other Minerals

Arsenic is not to be found in sufficient quantity in the Hazelton district to warrant mining for it exclusively according to Dr. George Hanson of the federal geological survey who has just completed an examination of deposits of that metal in the interior. It may be mined profitably, however, with other ores in such properties as the Duthie Mine at Smithers.

Dr. Hanson states that several prospectors are going into the Kitsumkalum Valley in search of gold properties where operations may be carried on profitably on a small scale. These men are coming from outside the district, however. The people nearby do not seem to be much interested in it. Dr. Hanson recently said there were good opportunities for this type of mining there.

Dr. Hanson sailed last night for Vancouver and will spend the winter in Ottawa. H. G. Gunnings, B.Sc., one of Dr. Hanson's assistants in the district this year, is at present at Terrace and will soon be going to Stewart to join the staff of the Premier Gold Mining Co. R. H. B. Jones, his other assistant, has gone to Wisconsin to continue his studies.

Halibut Schooner D.C.F. Sank After Striking Something in Water: Crew are Still Safe

The Canadian halibut schooner, D.C.F. No. 1, owned by Capt. Charles Wallace and James McNulty of this city, sank in 56 fathoms of water about five miles south of Gibson Island in Grenville Channel yesterday morning after striking an obstruction, the nature of which has not yet been ascertained. Capt. Wallace and his crew of three men—G. Wicks, W. Babcock and W. Williams—reached port this morning at 11:15 being brought in by Jack Allen, a Lewis Island rancher, on his gasoline boat, Aleda. The D.C.F. is believed to be a total loss beyond hope of salvage on account of the depth of the water and she has been turned over to the underwriters, having been two-thirds insured. All that was saved was a few skates of gear, the compass and weather glass.

The obstruction which the boat struck, it is believed, may have been one of or a part of one of the railway cars loaded with pulp which went overboard from the Swanson Bay car ferry early this week. It might have been a log but, whatever it was, it was not seen after it was hit.

Moonlight Night

Leaving Prince Rupert on Wednesday, the D.C.F. was proceeding down Grenville Channel bound for Buteade to take on ice and bait before going out to the halibut banks. It was a bright moonlight night. About 4:30 the boat struck something on the port side. Capt. Wallace was at the wheel. The clutch was immediately pulled out of gear to save the propeller from striking and engine was slowed down. An examination was made to ascertain that the engine was operating all right and the boat was started up again. About 20 or 25 minutes later one of the men came up and advised Capt. Wallace that the flywheel was turning up water. Another examination was made but soon the water had reached half way up the flywheel and the pump belt started to slip. The boat was turned into shore but in a few minutes the engine stopped.
