Plans for Flying at Hazelton are Completed and First Trip Likely to be Made Next Week

Unusually bad weather has prevented the Railway Employees' Industrial & Investment Association's hydroplane Hazelton from already making its first flight this season from Hazelton to Thutade Lake. Len Bell, president of the association, states. Mr. Bell arrived in the city last night from Hazelton and will return East tonight.

Six prospecting parties are already awaiting to be taken in on the machine and Mr. Bell hopes that the first flight may be made next week, weather permitting, of course. Mr. Bell says that there have been some very

Women and Children at Anyox Spent Night on Slag Dump to Escape Danger: Dynamite Melted

While the men of Anyox, led by General Manager Munro heroically fought the fire, five hundred women and children fearing the blowing up of the magazine, camped all night on the slag pile or remained in boats at a distance from the town. At the mine settlement they took shelter in the glory hole, every moment fearing that an explosion would take place and that their men would be in danger and possibly their homes destroyed. It was an anxious time, according to passengers from Anyox coming to Prince Rupert last night on the steamer Prince Rupert.
