

Making Money Grow

PERHAPS there are many things you would like to buy—but you cannot afford them now. Why not save up for them?

There is much personal satisfaction to be found in saving money—one dollar grows to two—in a short time it is five—then ten and so on—but if you are saving for a definite object, you should open a bank account. Whilst the money is always there for you when you need it, there is less temptation to spend small sums—it grows quicker and is safe from loss. You will find our Managers and Staff willing to help you.

Wanted—One Big Industry.

To bring Prince Rupert to a condition of prosperity equal to any that the city has ever yet had through temporary inflation, there is needed here one more important industry employing several hundred men. Such would relieve the present quiet condition and would start the city on the path of steady growth that every one who is interested here is certain will come sooner or later. With all the potential natural resources that lie at hand only awaiting development, there is no doubt that Prince Rupert is destined to be a great city and a large centre of production and shipping. To get the business started should be the aim of every citizen. Already several projects are under way with local people figuring in them which will mean business for the city in various ways. One of them is with a view to supplying power for industries.

Sawmill Project Is Live One.

Included in the immediate prospects which this city may realize in the near future is the resumption of lumber cutting at the Seal Cove sawmill. This would mean the employment of at least 100 men and would provide an important payroll beneficial to all citizens. The carrying out of the pulp mill project would mean the establishment of a much greater industry and the addition of a population of several thousand people.

Car Repair Shops Likely.

Then there is the project for the starting of car repair shops at the dry dock. Various rumors have been heard recently about this but up to the present nothing official has been made known. Mr. Hacking, who visited here recently for the purpose of looking into the proposition, should report soon and then some definite information may be forthcoming. About all that is so far known is that he was favorably inclined to the project. Railway officials who visited the city this spring indicated that the establishment of car shops here would mean the employment of probably several hundred men. They would practically be all newcomers and would increase the population and business of the city.

Trans-Pacific Shipping May Soon Start.

The indications are that trans-Pacific shipping may soon commence through this port. With that end in view, the railway company is repairing and extending the lumber assembly wharf. Mr. McMillan, the Vancouver lumber broker, says that he is ready to buy lumber laid down here for shipment to the Orient. What he is waiting for is the decision of district millmen to make deliveries. Once interior lumber starts going to the Orient successfully, there is no reason why the local mill and other plants in the district should not commence operations.

Besides the possibility of shipping lumber from this port to the Orient, it seems likely that salmon may move that way before long. A large dock has been built here for this trade. With the adjustment of difficulties now impeding the passage of Alaska salmon through the port settled, that business could come this way. Then there is always the large production of salmon adjacent to the city which, it seems, might be shipped direct from here.

Development of trans-Pacific shipping through Prince Rupert would be capable of much volume, every pound of which would mean more business for the city coming through its handling.

Taken all in all, there seems little reason for becoming discouraged. All that is necessary is to sit tight, fight for everything and work with the common end in view. Things will then soon right themselves and we will have been well repaid for waiting.

"There Were Many Things Which I Could Not Eat"

Mrs. H. Robert Wells, English Harbour, Trinity Bay, Nfld., writes:

"I was troubled with nervous dyspepsia—so much so that there were a great many things I could not eat at all on account of the distressed feeling afterwards. I used many different remedies, but they did me little good. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills, and was surprised at the relief this combined treatment gave me in such a short time."

PREPARING TO BUILD HOME

A. A. Cox Will Draft Plans for New Nurses' Home Building About to be Erected

Preliminary arrangements were made at the meeting of the hospital board last night for the erection of the new nurses' home as the result of the drive now being undertaken in this connection. A resolution was adopted to employ A. A. Cox, the Vancouver architect, to prepare preliminary plans. The amount to be expended on the new home, has not yet been decided upon. This will be discussed at the conclusion of the drive by the directorate including the hospital board and the nurses' home committee at a future meeting.

Present at the meeting were D. G. Stewart, president of the board, D. C. Melts, chairman of the finance committee, S. K. Campbell, chairman of the house committee, T. Ross Mackay, Ald. Mackenzie, W. E. Williams, Mrs. S. Dalton, Ald. Theo. Collart, E. H. Mortimer and W. D. Vance, acting secretary.

President Stewart said that the Nurses' Home drive was well under way and had met with very good success. He thought that steps should be taken for the erection of the new building. Mr. Whittaker, government architect, and A. A. Cox, architect of Vancouver, had both been over the ground. A letter was read from P. L. James, architect, Victoria, applying for the position as architect, and also a letter from A. A. Cox. Mr. Jeffers was at present in California and would not be available.

Making Plans

E. H. Mortimer thought that any local man capable of giving advice and carrying out the necessary architectural duties should be given a chance on the job. President Stewart was of the opinion that in view of the fact the building was to be a public one built with public funds that the board should be very careful to see that a proper architect was employed. Ald. Collart thought that it was a very big undertaking and that the whole thing could be put up to the architect, to submit plans of what was wanted. S. K. Campbell said that Mr. Cox would be back in the city in about three weeks and could then be consulted. W. E. Williams concurred. T. Ross Mackay said he would not leave the details to other than a resident of Prince Rupert who was thoroughly familiar with the climatic conditions, otherwise a mistake might be made. Mr. Mackay suggested that Mr. Cox be asked to prepare floor plans with back and front elevations. During the discussion of employing a supervisor of the work, Ald. Collart said that the city engineer would have to inspect the building periodically in his capacity as building inspector and he thought that would be sufficient. Mr. Williams thought that a competent architect and supervisor should be employed on the job.

It was moved by W. E. Williams and seconded by S. K. Campbell that an architect be employed. This motion was carried unanimously. Mr. Mortimer then made the motion, seconded by Ald. Collart, that A. A. Cox, the Vancouver architect, be asked to prepare preliminary plans. This was carried.

A meeting of the joint committees will be called later to consider the amount to be expended on the new building.

Miss Olive Saunders, who came over from Digby to attend the dance last night, is a guest of Miss Johnstone.

HOSPITAL BOARD NOT TO PAY PUPIL NURSES LESS THAN ELSEWHERE

The question of the reduction of pay of pupil nurses at the general hospital upon the erection of a nurses' home was brought up by W. E. Williams at a meeting of the board last night. Mr. Williams said that there was an impression in the city that, upon the erection of a new nurses' home, the pay of the pupil nurses would be reduced. He asked if any statement had been made to disabuse this impression. He was of the opinion that the pupil nurses in Prince Rupert would always have to receive more than in Vancouver even if a nurses' home were built.

S. K. Campbell said that this impression arose through some remarks he made at the meeting of the city council last week. He stated then that the pay of the pupil nurses had been raised a few years ago as an inducement for pupil nurses to come here. The rates paid to pupil nurses here were far in excess of those paid in other centres. They were endeavoring to bring about conditions by building a nurses' home to better the living conditions of the pupil nurses as it had been found impossible to obtain local probationers. By building a nurses' home they would be offering attractions in the way of decent living conditions and recreation for girls to come in. His remarks had been misrepresented to the effect that if a nurses' home were built here they would reduce the salaries. He said that the hospital board must adhere to the regular scale of salaries paid in British Columbia allowing for the difference in the cost of living in the various places. Mr. Campbell said that if the city was ever going to compete with outside points it has got to get costs in the city down to a competitive basis. It was not the intention of the hospital board to pay pupil nurses here less than is paid to other pupil nurses in British Columbia plus the cost of living in Prince Rupert today.

INTERIOR TOWNS GO IN FOR POLYTECHNIC

Mr. Pinder-Moss, Director, Writing From Smithers, Says That Work Will be Introduced at New Hazelton and Telkwa

Writing from Smithers to the editor of the Daily News, John Pinder-Moss, director of the Northern Polytechnic Institute, who is on a tour of the interior for organization purposes, states that he has made arrangements with the school boards of New Hazelton and Telkwa for the formation of technical classes in their districts in the fall. At the time of writing, he had not seen the Smithers board. As indicated in a former letter this week, Mr. Pinder-Moss has also been successful in organizing classes at Terrace and Hazelton.

Mr. Pinder-Moss says that mineralogy and dressmaking will be popular classes in the interior. Finding a demand for High School education in smaller places, he also states that the institute will be able to fill this need. In Telkwa, there will be a full enrolment in this class.

Speaking of general conditions, Mr. Pinder-Moss states that the crops are looking fine and the grain is up 6 inches. Much land is being cleared. Terrace was a mass of blossom from end to end. The sawmill was working steadily.

In London, England, in the 17th Century, tea brought prices equivalent to $25 and $50 a pound.

Today, tea is the cheapest drink in the world, and we believe you'll agree that Nabob is "Tea as it should be".

GASSED OVERSEAS SHELL SHOCKED and RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Morinville, Alta., writes:—"After three years service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed, and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Mother's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved."
