Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Fisherman Taken This Morning to Local Hospital

City police were called this morning to the Cow Bay floats to assist in taking Ed. Poulson, elderly trolling fisherman, from his boat, Alba, to the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Poulson had been taken sick while living on his boat and is believed to have suffered from exposure. When men from neighboring boats discovered his plight this morning, he was sitting helpless on the side of his bunk with his feet in water which was leaking into the boat. He was too ill to pump the water out.

Prince George Case Up Again

Mrs. Elizabeth Overn Now Seeking Writ of Attachment Against Sheriff Peters

Mrs. Elizabeth Overn of Vancouver, fur trader, has asked the Court of Appeal in Vancouver for a writ of attachment against Sheriff E. S. Peters of Prince George.

Mrs. Overn was awarded $11,000 in Supreme Court for alleged illegal seizure and sale of her trading post at Whitewater, about 400 miles north of Prince George. The Supreme Court of Canada varied the judgment to the extent that she was awarded $5904 damages against Sheriff Peters and the Hudson Bay Co. and $497 against P. E. Wilson and J. O. Wilson, Prince George lawyers, John Strand, Quesnel trader, not appealing an $11,000 judgment against him. Appealing from an order of Chief Justice Morrison, who refused to grant a writ of attachment against the sheriff.

Mrs. Overn has now asked the Court of Appeal to make the order on the ground that the sheriff is in contempt of court for not paying into court all the money which he realized from the sale of Mrs. Overn's trading post. He paid $4600 into court and she says that he should pay $949 additional.

The Court of Appeal reserved its judgment in the case.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Premier is Still British Columbia's Largest Gold Producer—Judgment Reserved in Big Missouri Case—Announcement Does Not Affect Stock

"Premier mine at Stewart with several years of life still ahead of it is still the largest gold producer in British Columbia," according to a bulletin entitled "Lode Gold Developments in British Columbia" which has been released by Hon. W. A. McKenzie, minister of mines. "The Pioneer mine, with increased mill capacity recently brought in, will soon be the most important gold mine in the province with a probable production in 1933 of approximately $2,000,000. The most important lode-gold development of the year has been the success attending the development operations of the Cariboo Gold Quartz Co. Ltd. A 75-ton mill now being constructed on this property is expected to be in production by December. In 1933 a substantial output of gold should come from this property. The bulletin estimates the production of lode gold for this year at $3,800,000, which will be an increase of 26% over that of 1931. From all indications a considerably larger gold output will be made in 1933, the report predicts. "Not the least important result of the gold activity this year has been the employment provided," states the bulletin. "This has been marked in certain areas. In the Cariboo, as a result of both lode and placer gold activities, the district has experienced the busiest year in several and all indications point to more work in 1933."

Judgment has been reserved in Supreme Court at Vancouver by Mr. Justice Fisher in the claim of Mrs. Laura McEwan of Nelson to recover $27,724 from the estates of the two dead Stewart prospectors, Daniel and Andrew Lindeborg, in connection with the sale of the Big Missouri mine. Mrs. McEwan, as representative of the estates of two other dead prospectors, Hiram Stevenson and James Proudfoot, alleged that the Lindeborgs agreed with Stevenson's and Proudfoot's heirs to share costs and judgments which the courts might award William F. Harris, Port Angeles prospector who was eventually awarded $50,000 against the Stevenson and Proudfoot estates as his share of $250,000 realized from the sale of the Big Missouri. Mrs. McEwan sought to hold the Lindeborgs, against whom Harris' claim was dismissed, liable for half of the $50,000 judgment together with costs and interest. The defendant were Arthur and Verena Owens and John Hubert Hensworth of Vancouver, representing the two Lindeborg estates. J. W. de B. Faris was counsel for Mrs. McEwan and A. H. MacNeill and F. D. Pratt for the defendants.

Announcement that Premier Gold will continue operations despite the British orders that have affected British Columbia mining properties had little effect upon the stock in Vancouver trading. Premier stock has been remaining steady at around 57 1/2c in Vancouver trading.

OLD CASE UP AGAIN

Trustees of Somerville Cannery Co. Seek Damages From Federal Fisheries Officers

With judgments of the Privy Council and of the Supreme Court of Canada disposing of the main legal points, trial has opened in Supreme Court at Vancouver before Chief Justice Morrison of a $70,915 claim by the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association Ltd., suing as trustees in bankruptcy of the Somerville Cannery Co. Ltd., against Alex Johnston, former deputy minister of fisheries, William A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, J. A. Motherwell, chief inspector of fisheries for British Columbia, and Adam Mackie, supervisor of fisheries, Vancouver. The case re-echoes the much-contested seizure on August 8, 1926, by Dominion Fisheries officers of the Somerville Cannery Co.'s floating cannery Laurel Whalen at Massett Inlet.

On October 15, 1929, after having gone from one court to another, the case came before the Privy Council which held the section of the federal Fisheries Act authorizing the seizure was ultra vires, the consequence being that the province and not the Dominion established the right to licence salmon canneries. The Supreme Court of Canada early this year held that the defendant fishery officers were entitled to protection of the Provincial Magistrate's Act. The issue now is whether defendants acted beyond the scope of the impugned sections of the Fisheries Act and thereby lost protection of the Magistrate's Act. The plaintiff alleges that defendants acted outside the statute, exceeded their duties as fishery officers and discriminated against the Somerville Cannery Co.

The damage claim includes $9370 for loss of 2000 cases of pinks, $42,000 for loss of 12,000 cases of pinks, and $9555 which would have been made out of canning 210,000 chums.

E. C. Mayers K.C. and Milton Gonzales are counsel for the plaintiffs and W. E. Burns K.C. and O. F. Lundell for defendants.

TEXAS HOT TAMALE PIE

Two cups cooked meat (ground or diced), 1/2 small garlic clove (minced), 1 tablespoon chili powder, 1 1/2 cups gravy or meat stock, salt to taste, 2 cups rice cereal (or 1 quart cooked corn meal mush, very stiff).

Mix the meat with gravy or stock, chili powder, salt and garlic. Turn into buttered casserole or baking pan. Cover with the rice cereal. Bake from 20 to 30 minutes in a moderate oven (400 degrees F.).

If the corn meal mush is used, line the sides and bottom of the baking dish with cold mush. Fill the meat mixture. Put mush over top in broken pieces. Then bake.
