DAILY ALASKA MINE OPTION

British Interests Obtain Control of Salmon River Property on American Side

VANCOUVER, Mar. 26.—British interests have obtained control of another Salmon river property by the purchase on option of the Daly Alaska, on the Alaska side of the creek, which cuts its way through what is considered one of the richest mineral zones in the world.

Maurice D. Leehay, of Seattle, attorney for the Daly Alaska, announced that the property has been optioned to H. S. Denny, mining engineer, of London, Eng. Under the agreement the ultimate consideration is $850,000.

Then came Pat Daly. Pat had found the ore in the Premier mine. Tying up the New Alaska ground, he came to Vancouver and, with the assistance of Jesse Kahn, of the Castle Hotel, Ed. Hambleton, of Stewart, and some old-time Alaskans, he promoted the Daly Alaska Mining Co. But they were a long way from having money to develop the mine body.

Hand mining, which was suspended last November, accomplished results that warranted thorough development. Five parallel ore zones have been defined, some of which carry large shoots of "shipping" ore, and these can be cut by a working tunnel, starting near the Salmon River wagon road.
