MUCH REVENUE FROM FISHING

Alaska Gets Largest Part of its Territorial Income From That Source

JUNEAU, March 7.—In the six and one-half years from July 1, 1916, to December 31, 1922, revenues accruing to the Territory from taxes on various branches of the fisheries industry were almost three times as large as that from any other industry, according to the official audit report of the Territorial Treasury. Revenues from the fisheries of all kinds amounted in that period to $1,850,138.30.

Second as a revenue producer is the mining industry which, during the same period, turned into the Territorial treasury the sum of $661,694.75. The school poll tax was in third place, revenue from it amounting to $349,971.61. Income taxes from railways brought in $151,140.63 and from the National Forests was received $134,224.21. Of the last named sum, the Tongass Forest returns were $119,450.13 and the Chugach, $14,774.08. Corporation fees in the Secretary's office contributed during the audit period almost $65,000; ships and shipping $56,121.44.

The fur tax law passed by the 1921 legislature proved to be a revenue producer of some importance, the total for the biennium being $12,145.75. Most of that amount was collected in 1922, when receipts under the act totalled $10,581.18, as compared to $1,564.57 for the first year's operations of the law.

MARRIED BUT FOUND HUSBAND A WOMAN

Miss Blanche Hughes Asks for Divorce Because Mistake Was Made in Sex

TRENTON, N.J., March 6.—(By Canadian Press)—Settling forth that the "man" she married proved a woman, Miss Blanche M. Hughes of East Orange, N.J., has started an annulment suit here in the Chancery Court. She lived with her supposed husband for seven months and never knew "he" should have been in skirts like herself, she averred.

According to her petition "a person known to her as William J. Houston," whom she met through friends in New York and thought was a very nice young man, proposed to her and they became engaged. She described "him" as having chestnut hair, grey eyes and a light complexion. "He" weighed only about 100 pounds, but was a mechanic. Miss Hughes was twenty three years old.

On April 28, 1920, they were married by John Quayle, Deputy City Clerk, in Brooklyn. "Houston" gave "his" age at twenty-five, and the names of "his" parents as Frank Houston and Elizabeth Grier Houston.

On June 28, of the same year they went through another marriage ceremony, which was performed by Father John O'Dowd, curate of St. Theresa's Catholic Church, in Brooklyn, which Miss Hughes attended. They lived for a while in Brooklyn and then in Detroit.

But December 6, of that year, Miss Hughes said, her supposed husband told her the automobile business in which "he" was engaged was bad and requested her to leave "him" and return to her parents, which she did, "he" promising to send for her when business picked up. She set forth that since that time she had not seen or heard from "him."

Miss Hughes further said she had been informed and believed that "Houston," while holding "himself" out to her as a man, was in fact a normal woman. She said "he" had defrauded and misled her with intent by hiding and concealing "his" true sex, and she asked the court for relief.

LADIES' DAY IN VERMONT HOUSE

One Was Speaker While 25 Bills Were Introduced Into Legislature

MONTPELIER, Vt., March 7.—For the first time in the history of the state legislature a woman sat recently as speaker of the House of Representatives. She occupied the chair during the introduction of 25 bills and was loudly applauded as she handed over the reins to the speaker.

The presence of three women members led the legislators to declare a "ladies' day" in their honor. Miss Leonie Meech, representative from Monkton, had the honor of being the first woman to preside as speaker. Messages from Governor Redfield Proctor were delivered to House and Senate by two women clerks in the governor's office. Miss Helen E. Dell, of Proctor, took a message to the Senate and Miss Mary Fowler, also of Proctor, took one to the House. Mrs. Mary G. Nye, Montpelier, the only woman in the Senate, presented a communication from the Senate to the House.

BOY COMMITTEE TO ACT AS VIGILANTS

Several Hundred in Buffalo Banded Together to Enforce Laws

BUFFALO, March 7.—This city has a full-fledged vigilante committee with a membership of several hundred. The members do not wear masks nor do night-riding, but form a very earnest organization that believes it has a mission for better citizenship and law-observance.

The committee was formed by students of Lafayette high school after a number of boys of the institution had been arrested and convicted of stealing automobiles for joy-rides. One case resulted in the slaying of a police officer who tried to arrest a trio of boys in a stolen car.

Repeated offenses by Lafayette boys, the student body and faculty decided, were giving the school a "black eye," and plans were discussed at assembly to break up the wave of lawlessness. The outcome was the vigilante committee, an oath-bound organization for law enforcement and the protection of the school name.

Offenders are brought before the vigilants for trial, but sentences imposed, if any, are carried out by the faculty.
