OF WARSHIPS WERE GUESTS OF G.W.V.A.

tine Concert Was Staged on Saturday Night in Honor of Naval Visitors

cert was given by them into or of the officers and crews His Majesty's ships Curlew! Patrician. The musical and ocal portion of the program was every high standard and constited one of the finest concerts! er held in the city.

Major McGregor, V.C., occupied the chair, and among those present were Capt, Holbrook, M.V.O., commanding H..M.S. Curlew, and Cap. Oland, commanding H.M.C.S. africian. Representatives of the city were Mayor Newton, Fre 1 Stork, M.P. Aeting American ce-consul Fred Weaver, and E. Gibbons, president of the Roard of Trade.

During the evening popular msical selections were rendered by the band of the First Northern BC. Regiment. Those contributing to the concert program from M.S. Curlew were Messrs. Hebbleswaithe, George, Turner, Conpelly, Giddy, Harris, Green, Elesnore and Elliott and from H. M. s. Patrician, Messrs, Clarke, Cave, Arnold, Girdlestone, and Garrington. The various items; on the program performed by the members of the visiting warships! were of a high standard and splendidly executed. Constable Bowler, of the R.C.M.P., and Comrade James, of the G.W.V.A., sang several good songs. S. K. Campbell, who sang several vocali selections was repeatedly encored. The accompanists comprised Mr. Lemmon, of H.M.S. Curlew. Mr. Arnold, of H.M.C.S. Patrician, and W. Vaughan Davies. A deightful evening was brought to a close at midnight with the singing of God Save the King.

MAPLE LEAF DANCE ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Day Celebration Brought to Fitting Close in Auditorium Last Night

The Maple Leaf dance, held in the Auditorium last hight, under the auspices of the Sons of Canada, was very successful and a good number of people enjoyed it. The hall was fittingly decorated with flags and bunting. Pryce's dance orchestra was very indulgent with a tip-top program of the latest dance music. Delight? ful refreshments were served at midnight under the supervision of Mrs. Carroll. The arrangements were in the capable hands of H. R. Love assisted by a corps of members of the Sons of Canada.

The dance brought an altorether successful day to a very fitting close.

A. D. Hallett, of Alice Arm, returned by Saturday evening's train from a trip to the Northern Onfario mining fields and left for Alice Arm on the Cardena Sunday night. When Mr. Hallett went east early in the spring it was his intention to remain there but he found that this country! offered more promise to the prospector so he returned.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

A frightful tale of suffering and privation is brought here from Lowe Inlet by A. W. Chapple, of this city. Reginald Seeley, a fisherman, was recently picked up on Wright Sound and brought to Lowe Inlet after having been adrift in a broken down gasboat without food or water for five! days. Seeley was cut adrift by his comrades who made away in another boat in which he had a half interest.

Capt. William Quinn, master of the trawler Canada, has won | in a breach of contract action against the British Columbian Fisheries Co. He brought the Canada out from Grimsby and arrival on the coast was cut down in rank and pay to mate.

Commence Commence On account of the rain, the children's sports had to be postponed from Dominion Day unti! yesterday. The committee in charge comprised Chief Vickers, Acting Mayor Naden, D. McD. Hunter, W. J. Godson and O. H. Nelson.

"Sight Unseen" Trade is Gamble

There is a little of the gambling instinct in the blood of nearly every man, woman and child, but even the hardened gambler likes to get a "run for his money." The "sight unseen" proposition doesn't appeal to him in the least. There are thousands of people, however, who would be properly indignant if they were accused of being gamblers, who every day take a chance on the greatest gambling game in the world. And worse than that, they are risking their money on a "sight unseen" proposition.

When one of the thousands of persons who build up and keep up the great mail order houses of the country sends his money away to pay for some articles that he has selected from the mail order catalogue, he is taking a chance on getting what he expects to get. The mail order house may be perfeetly honest and still the purchaser stands a good chance of not getting what he expects to get. The mail order catalogues are filled with pictures that catch the eye. The descriptions are brief, as they must be when thousands of articles are to be described within the confines of one book. No matter how hard the mail order house might try to. tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, it would be an impossibility. The buyer is simply taking a chance.

How much more satisfactory it is to walk into a store in your home town and ask to see an article which you may have seen advertised in your home paper. What would anyone think of your business ability or your common sense if you walked into a store at home and said "I saw a picture in the paper today of a suit which I liked very much. Please wrap up one for me. Here's the money." The merchant would think that you were crazy, but that is exactly what you do every time you send an order to a mail order house. You buy "sight unseen" and you haven't a ghost of a chance of getting your money back if the article is unsatisfactory when it reaches you.

How different is the proceeding when you go into the store in your own home town to buy a suit of clothes, or a stove or a yard of ribbon. You may have seen a picture of it in the merchant's advertisement in the home paper and you know that, as the merchant is reliable, you can count on the goods being as he represents them in his advertisement. But does he ask you to take his word for everything? Does he hide the article behind the counter and tell you that you can't even see it until you buy it and pay over the money for it? Hardly. If the article is not already in plain sight on the counter, the merchant produces it for your inspection. If it does not exactly suit you, he has others that are a little different and that he is glad to have you inspect.

Then, if it is a suit of clothes you are buying, or a piece of dress goods or a pair of socks, you may ask if the merchant will guarantee that it will wear as long as an article of that kind could be expected to wear and he will tell you either that he will guarantee it or that he will not. If he tells you that he will guarantee it you know that you will get your money back or another suit or another pair of socks in its place if it doesn't wear like it should, for the merchant, besides being an honest man in most cases, cannot afford not to make his word good. He is dependent upon your business and that of others in his own community and he cannot afford to misrepresent his goods. After having all this opportunity to see what you are buying, you take your suit or your stove or whatever it is you buy home or it is sent home for you without delivery charges, and after you get home and take another look at it and decide you don't want it after all, you send it back.

You are not buying something "sight unseen" when you buy from your home merchant. You don't look at a picture of an article in a newspaper, read a short description of it, go to the post office and buy a money order and send it to the merchant with the instructions, "Send me a suit of clothes"-or a stove or whatever it may be -"and I'll pay your delivery man 50 cents for delivering it to me."

There's a world of difference in the two methods of doing business and it's not hard to figure out which is the best for the man who is doing the buying.
