GRAIN GROWING IN CENTRAL B.C.

P. W. Ankateil-Jones, an experienced farmer and agricultural expert employed in the government service and whose natural bias, if he had one, would be in favor of the south where his own farm is located, speaks most highly of the farming section of interior British Columbia. He says he saw wheat and oats growing there equal to any that can be produced in any part of the country.

While the small grain production of those valleys is at present absorbed by the local market, any extension of grain growing will have to be accompanied by an extension of the market. Under present conditions this is difficult but with the erection of an elevator here, the farmers of the Bulkley and Nechaco will be placed in an advantageous position and the development of the valleys would be rapid.

There are probably a million or more acres of land between Prince Rupert and McBride suited to grain growing. With that in crop producing twenty million bushels of grain a year, one elevator would be kept busy all the time handling it and other elevators would be needed to handle the grain shipped this way from the prairies. To the Canadian National Railway this would be an immense thing. Mr. Ankateil-Jones is not a man who has any reason to boost the north. He speaks only from observation and what he says is for that reason likely to be reliable.

On his way to Alaska to investigate tourist possibilities and expansion of business generally, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will arrive here tomorrow morning by the steamer Princess Louise accompanied by a prominent party of directors and coast officials. The directors coming besides Mr. Beatty are Sir Herbert Holt of Montreal, president of the Royal Bank of Canada; Sir Augustus Nanton, Winnipeg financier; J. K. L. Ross, capitalist navy man of Montreal, and W. N. Tilley, K.C. of Toronto, Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the C.P.R. coast Steamship Service, it is understood, will also accompany the party.

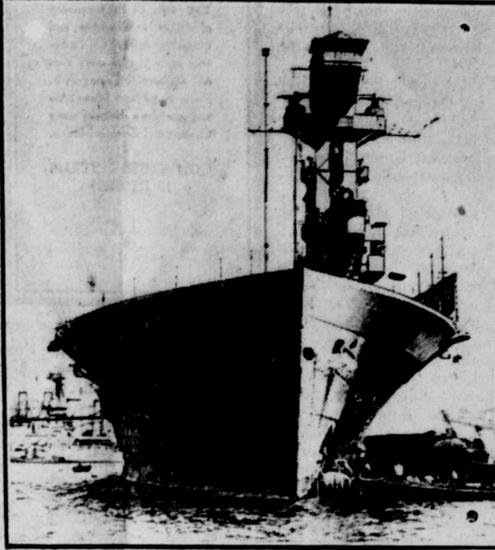

W. C. Orchard, local C.P.R. agent, has received a wire from Vancouver stating that Mr. Beatty and his party will be here for a few hours in the morning. Nothing of a formal nature in the way of entertainment is desired but the party will be open to receive representative citizens between the hours of 9 and 10. This desire will preclude the holding of a Canadian Club luncheon which had been proposed. Mayor Newton, E. C. Gibbons, president of the Board of Trade, L. W. Patmore, president of the Canadian Club, and others, will however take the opportunity of meeting the prominent visitors. One of the objects of the trip, it is understood, is to look over the situation with a view to placing another new steamer on the Alaska route.

Kitsumkalum Valley Provides Great Mining Opportunities According to Federal Geologist

"There are very fine opportunities for mining of free gold on a small scale in the Kitsumkalum valley district and I look for early developments of an exciting nature there," states Dr. George Hanson, head of the federal geological survey party which has been spending a great deal of time in that district this season. After having been for two and a half months in the Kitsumkalum district, two weeks at Alice Arm and two weeks at Stewart, Dr. Hanson and H. C. Gunning and R. H. B. Jones, his assistants, arrived in the city from Stewart Saturday evening.

Dr. Hanson gave his opinion that prospectors in the Kitsumkalum district working on the small gold veins could with small investment bring very good returns. The proposition that offered there was the extracting of good gold values from the quartz. This could be done with small mill outfits and, in some places where transportation was immediately at hand, the ore could be shipped. If the mineral was found in quantity, there might even be the possibility of company operations on a large scale. Dr. Hanson referred more especially to Douglas, Lorne, Hall and Fiddler Creeks.

In making their tour of exploration through the Kitsumkalum valley, Dr. Hanson and his party went in by way of the Naas River and Aiyash coming down the Kitsumkalum River to Terrace. Later they went to Alice Arm and Stewart arriving here from the latter place. Tonight the party leaves by train for Hazelton where two weeks will be spent investigating arsenic deposits. This will conclude the program of the party for the season. Dr. Hanson will spend a while in Vancouver and Winnipeg and his headquarters for the winter will be at Ottawa. He expects to be back in this district next year probably working in the interior. Mr. Gunning and Mr. Jones Dr. Hanson's assistants, are recent B.Sc. graduates from the University of British Columbia.

New Sawmill will be Erected this Autumn on Queen Charlottes

That the proposed sawmill at Ali Inlet is to be erected at once is the word brought by John McMillan of the T. A. Kelly Logging Co. who is in the city today. He states that construction will commence this fall and the work will be rushed through so that the mill may be ready for operation early in the spring.

During the early part of the month an engineer went over the ground and picked out a site for the mill and advised in regard to its construction. All that is necessary now is to get the machinery on the ground and erect the necessary buildings. The work will commence very soon. The capacity of the mill it is understood will be from 75,000 to 100,000 feet a day. The company has also made arrangements to ship pulpwood in barges from Moresby Island to Powell River mill.

They are: Somerville, on the Naas; Goose Bay at Rivers Inlet; Laagoon Bay and Lockeport on the Queen Charlotte Islands; Balmoral, Sunnyside and Inverness on the Skeena River; Butedale, Bella Bella and Namu in the central division.

The Dominion Fisheries office estimates the total pack for the district to date as follows:

LABOR CONGRESS AFTER THE SENATE

Would Abolish Second Chamber or Failing That Would Reform it

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17.—A resolution passed at the week end by the Dominion Trades Congress recommended that the Senate be abolished.

President Moore believed that abolition would be a difficult matter, and that efforts at reform of the Senate would bring earlier results. He suggested an amendment to demand that the Senate be made an elective body.

Delegate Simpson, secretary of the executive committee, stated that it was felt that abolition was what was the real object aimed at. Reforms were all right, but ideals should be kept in view.

H. Tanacki was fined $50 in the police court this morning for intoxication.
