Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert
June 8, 1923.

The Prince Rupert Board of Trade at a special meeting called yesterday afternoon by President E. G. Dawson endorsed a resolution of the Vancouver Board asking that a duty on American coal be removed.

A big shot was fired at the foot of Centre Street yesterday in the course of clearing the station site. Damage was done to property, principally No. 2 shed and its contents, amounting to $12,000. One of the largest blasts ever fired in Prince Rupert, hundreds of people gathered to view the spectacle.

The funeral took place this afternoon of the late W. D. Black, Rev. W. H. McLeod officiating. Miss Black, sister of deceased, has arrived to take the remains to Fergus, Ont., for interment.

Dr. Hanson says Alice Arm has Bright Mining Future and Gives Reasons for it

In spite of the present condition of inactivity, Dr. George Hanson, Dominion geologist, who is spending the summer in the north, believes that there is a bright future in store for the mining industry in the Alice Arm district and that many good opportunities present themselves there which sooner or later will be realized and taken up resulting in the carrying on of operations on a permanent, healthy and profitable basis.

Speaking to the Daily News yesterday, Dr. Hanson declared that three distinct opportunities presented themselves for mining operation about Alice Arm. Each of them he believed would eventually be carried on there.

Erect Concentrator

First of these opportunities was a consolidation and operation on an intermediate grade scale of the larger low grade silver properties adjacent to and including the Dolly Varden mine which, Dr. Hanson said, was by no means a "done" mine. Such a proposition, Dr. Hanson felt, would be taken advantage of before long. It would involve the putting of a transportation system of short tram lines from some five or six properties surrounding the Dolly Varden to a centrally located concentrator.

Dr. Hanson was of the opinion that the shipping of concentrates would be the only successful method of operating the Dolly Varden consolidation but that it would be a good business. It would mean a profitable and permanent proposition on a large scale which, after all, would be of more value to the district through providing an industry that would be permanent, would operate steadily and would employ a large number of men.

A consolidation of such a nature, Dr. Hanson predicted, would afford the operation of a transportation system into the Kitsu Valley which would be of great value to all other properties in the district allowing them to get their ores to the outside which, under present conditions, was impossible.

Co-operation Necessary

To effect such a consolidation, Dr. Hanson said there would have to be a very fair co-operation between the independent property holders and the outfit taking over the whole concern. A concern embarking on such a project could not pay through the nose in acquiring the properties which individually would hardly bear the costs of concentration and transportation themselves.

The second opportunity which presented itself in the Alice Arm district, Dr. Hanson said, was the mining of high grade silver veins on a small scale such as was being carried out at the Esperanza mine at the present time. Small concerns could make good at such work on properties which would not stand the overhead of company operation.

The third opportunity was the working of individual properties of copper, lead and zinc with additional values in gold and silver such as existed in the Kitsu Valley, Upper Kitsu and Hlance River valleys and in the area adjacent to Alice Arm. Such properties at the present time were little more than prospects, Dr. Hanson said, because no one had yet taken a chance on proving them.

English Capital

Speaking generally of the mining situation in the north, Dr. Hanson referred to the increased interest that English capital was taking in the Stewart district. He hoped that that interest would be guided in the right direction so that the confidence of the investors would be sustained and encouraged. It was very important that this be done.

TERRACE FRUIT IS LOOKING LIKELY TO YIELD GOOD CROP

George Kerr is Appointed Selling Agent For Farmers' Institute

TERRACE, July 8. — Since the warm weather has come, the small fruits of the Terrace district are giving every promise of being an abundant crop. Strawberries will be on the market early in July, to be followed by the raspberry crop and all colors of currants. The raspberry canes that have been given any sort of a chance are heavily laden, while at present the strawberry fields show up well in blossom and forming fruit.

What is true of the berry prospect applies equally well to the currants as all bushes are heavily laden. The Farmers' Institute are handling practically the whole fruit crop this season and have appointed Geo. W. Kerr of the "Farmers' Market" as selling agent. Having had valuable experience in the past in the fruit selling business, he is well fitted to handle the coast needs.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF ANYOX PLANT IS APPOINTED BY MUNRO

J. B. Haffner Gets Position; General Manager Goes South to Meet President

H. S. Munro, general manager of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Company, went south last night on the Prince Rupert to meet Colonel Crabbe, president of the company, and with him to visit the newly acquired property of the company at Allenby and Copper Mountain. It is expected that the president will accompany Mr. Munro back to Anyox.

While here Mr. Haffner announced that J. B. Haffner had been appointed general superintendent of the Anyox plant and would take over the duties of the new position on or about July 1.

On the Mountain Top

CLIMB the mountain—stand on the peak—and before you there unfolds a panorama extending as far as your eye can reach. Stay in the valley, and your view is restricted by the surrounding hills.

This newspaper, properly used, will guide you to the mountain top. Read it and your vision is enlarged. You get a bird's-eye view of world events. You glimpse the doings of the day.

Fail to use it, and your view is limited—you remain in ignorance not only of events at home and abroad, but of much that concerns you even more vitally—news of the very things that have to do with your personal, everyday life.

Some one might be selling a new, better and more economical food; or a utensil that would add immeasurably to your comfort and well-being; or some better material for shoes or clothing—but you would never know, because of your restricted view.

You may read every line of the news columns, but if you overlook the advertising, you are still living in the valley. You remain uninformed about many things you ought to know in order to live a happy, useful, profitable life in this age of progress.

Climb out of the valley to the mountain top. Read the Advertisements.

very adequate measure of protection, being the difference between $25, or say $27, and $65 a ton. Therefore they could well afford to lend some ear to the government if they interfere on behalf of these working men. In the present case I feel like adopting the remarks of the hon. member for South York (Mr. Maclean) the other day when he suggested that the way to solve the question of the enhanced price of sugar was to give the refiners twenty-four hours to come down in their rates or they would see the effect in the budget. Perhaps it is not too late to insert an amendment in the budget which would solve this situation also.

Fred Stork's Speech

Fred Stork: I wish to endorse what the hon. member for Comox-Alberni has said. This is the natural outcome, as I see it, of the "closed town" system as we know it in British Columbia. It is what might be expected from the system that has prevailed there of recent years. There are in my constituency several towns which are entirely manufacturing centres, but they are owned and controlled absolutely by the company which operates the industry. These companies have prevented anyone else from coming in; they have a complete airtight monopoly. The system has been imported from some of the American states. Some years ago it was in vogue in Montana and other states where they had industrial centres that were owned and controlled entirely by the mining corporation. To the people of the United States it proved to be a very irksome system and they wiped it out there. Apparently the American manufacturer coming over to Canada has brought
