People are warned not to take seriously circulars that are being sent them offering to sell bonds and other investments of doubtful value. One thing that should always be remembered is to always buy from a firm that is reliable, so that if anything is wrong with the stock other than its purely stock market value there is a comeback. A good broker always tries to protect his clients. It pays him to do it.

One of the latest fakes is an offer of fabulous sums to be made from buying Austrian money. It may not be impossible that Austrian money should come back, but it is so improbable that few would care to stake their money on it. More than that, the purchaser has little idea of the validity of the bonds. Any firm offering that kind of paper just now must be looked on with suspicion.

Heavy Debt On Canadian Population.

While the debt on some European governments is practically impossible of repayment, that of Canada is high enough. The total charge in this country is estimated at four billion dollars or about $500 for each person, man, woman or child. This is bearing about five per cent interest, so that each family of average size has to pay an interest charge of something like $100 a year out of its earnings. Some of this is paid to the city, some to the province, and the rest to the Dominion, either in direct taxes or by customs duties or in some other way. That is in addition to operating expenses of each of the three governments. While some pay less than that amount others pay much more. This is light, however, compared with many countries, so there is nothing to worry about. When we wonder where all the money paid out in taxes goes to, we must remember that the first hundred dollars goes to interest charges.

Are Farmers Becoming Tired of Politics?

Discussing the political situation on the prairies, the Financial Post editorially says:

Western farmers seem to be losing faith in the "union" movement to solve their economic ills. The employment of political, co-operative or other methods which were advertised as being able to bring into the lap of the man on the farm all the magnificent benefits now accruing to the manufacturers, the wholesalers, the retailers, the banks, the loan companies and business institutions in general, have failed. There is a growing appreciation that the success of agriculture lies in the direction of good farming and not in playing at politics; that paternalistic schemes only help the lazy and indolent at the expense of the producers.

Recent statements have shown how the grain growers' organizations have lost business in the implement trade, in the lumber industry and in other specialized business fields. The membership of the United Farmers of Alberta has dropped from 31,500 to 14,000 in a year. The conventions of United Farmers in all three Western provinces have had comparatively poor attendances.

Writing of the U.F.A. convention at Calgary, a farmer describes it as "about the lamest thing that ever happened in these parts." He says that there seemed to be very little accomplished except the election of officials and the discussion of a lot of "tommy-rot." "Not one thing constructive," he goes on, "few resolutions but freaks and about three-fourths of them never up for discussion at all. Wood was, as usual, the whole thing and what he said went. It was well arranged in advance."

The Western Grain Growers' organizations have proven a success from the marketing standpoint—perhaps the farmers are willing to do more for and expect less from their own company than from a private concern. The elevator companies were soundly formed and have been operated on strict business lines. It has been since politicians have tried to get the farmers to go into all sorts of ventures, with or without government backing, on the basis that they would get their goods cheaper and also reap a profit, that the difficulties have arisen.

And now there is the realization that the way out is by hard work—all the "Coneism" in the world will not make things a bit better if the patient does not help himself.

Cut Up Valuable
Timber For Pulp.

Much of the timber that is used for pulp and paper manufacture is so valuable that it seems wrong to use it that way, especially when it is evident that before very long there will be a world shortage of timber. Second grade logs make just as good paper as first class. There is also cedar that should be used for shingles and other purposes but which is today made into pulp at the mills. It will not be many years before every country will be carefully conserving its best timber and using only the rough logs for paper.

"I Had Bilious Attacks and Stomach Weakness"

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Yonker, Sask., writes:
 "I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."

HANSON GETS LARGE ORDER

Five Hundred Carloads of Poles and Piling to be Delivered to United States

The Western Red Cedarmen's Association of Spokane, has contracted with the Hanson Tie & Timber Co. for the purchase of five hundred carloads of poles and piling to be delivered in the United States. The contract is one of the largest ever secured in this district and will represent a distribution of about $200,000 within the coming five or six months. Arrangements have been made to get the material rolling eastward by rail and a large force of men will be employed loading the cars at a dozen or more points between Beament and Terrace. Men will have to be taken on in the woods in greater numbers than ever in order to have the shipments completed by the end of August. At present the Hanson Co. is employing 350 men in the interior and this number will have to be increased. As the result there will be no excuse for unemployment anywhere in the interior. The contract was closed by Olaf Hanson on his recent trip south.

ALD. MACKENZIE WAS MARRIED LAST NIGHT
TO MISS L. THOMAS

Popular Member of Telephone Exchange Becomes Bride of G.W.V.A. Secretary

A pretty and interesting wedding took place at 8 o'clock last night in the Presbyterian Church when Miss Lillian Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thomas of Vancouver, was united in marriage to Ald. Alexander Mackenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch Mackenzie of Drumhag, Sutherlandshire, Scotland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant and there was present a large assembly of friends of the contracting couple. The church was tastefully decorated with daffodils and spring foliage.

The bride's costume was a brown serge suit with sand colored hat and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Christina McLeod wore a gown of henna colored crepe with hat to match and her bouquet was of pink carnations. Murdoch Mackenzie was groomsmen and the bride was given away by E. D. Wallace.

Following the wedding, there was a wedding supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, Fourth Avenue. The home was beautifully decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and covers were set for eleven, those present being the bride and bridegroom, Miss Christina McLeod, Murdoch Mackenzie, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mackenzie, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wallace, W. Vaughan Davies and Mr. and Mrs. J. Simpson. Following the supper, the evening was spent in music, singing and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie will take up their residence in the Emad Block. The bride has been a member of the municipal telephone exchange for some time and is popular amid a wide circle of friends. The groom is no less popular and has also resided in the city for some years. He served in the Great War and is managing secretary of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association. Last January he was elected to the high-aldermanic board. The best wishes of many well wishing friends will be extended to the happy couple.

LITTLE TEA IN THE WORLD'S TEA CENTRE

London, England, for many generations the tea market of the world, is faced with a most serious tea shortage. Recently the world consumption has greatly increased; also it is estimated there has been 80,000,000 lbs. less tea produced this year than is ordinarily consumed. As a result of this, the stocks in London are now practically exhausted. Prices are at the high-aldermanic board. The best level ever reached and still may go higher.
