Guilbransen Trade Mark

At the End of a Day

As the roll unwinds, music works its magic. Gone are the cares of a work-a-day world. A dear old tune touches the chords of tender memory—brings back boyish dreams—stirs the fires of inspiration.

Whatever your mood as you sit down before the Guilbransen reproducing piano you find it sympathetic, responsive. For it is as ready to reflect the exuberance of youth in the latest and gayest of popular tunes as it is to free the majestic music prisoned in the score of a composer's masterwork.

We invite you to our store today and try the Guilbransen reproducing piano. A few moments will reveal the pleasures it offers. We will gladly explain the advantages of its many exclusive features.

TRAGIC STORY OF TWO GIRLS

Arrivals at Winnipeg from Russia Tell of Barbarous Treatment of Mother

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12.—An unusual story of Bolshevik brutality was related by Regina and Margaret Keller, two girl immigrants from Russia, when they passed through Winnipeg Tuesday night, on their way to the farm of an uncle in Saskatchewan.

Margaret, 17 years old, told the story, while her sister, a year younger, nodded in tearful affirmation.

"Our home was near Vitebsk, between Moscow and Riga," Margaret said. "We were generally known as anti-Bolsheviks and, as a consequence, underwent all sorts of hardships.

"After a great deal of trouble, our mother, my sister, and I managed to get permission to leave the country, and come to Canada. Our brother, who is 23 years, wanted to come, too, but the Bolshevist authorities would not permit it, as he is of army age.

Horrible Act

"Every difficulty was put in our way clear up to the moment when we boarded the train. Somehow, we got separated from our mother at the station, and the train was moving when she started to run for our carriage. We were reaching out to help her in, when a guard cried: 'Here, there, old lady, if you can't get into the train, you'd better get under it.'

"Then—it doesn't seem possible, but it is true—then he deliberately kicked our mother under the train." The girl's voice broke. "We heard her cry out once. I screamed and jumped from the train. She was dead, crushed beneath the wheels.

"We were too frightened and stunned even to complain. It would have been no use anyway. The train took us on to Libau on the Baltic, where we got a steamer for Liverpool. There we transferred to the Montclair, and arrived at St. John's on it five days ago.

Did Not Dare Talk

"It was not until we got here that either of us dared to talk about what had happened. It all seems like a terrible dream now. No one can imagine what it is like to be in a free, civilized country after years in Russia. If our mother had only been able to see it, instead—but it is all too terrible."

The two girls were in the care of Mrs. Cook, of the immigration department of the Catholic Women's League, during their two-hour stay in Winnipeg. They have now gone on to the home of their uncle, John Labell of Denzil, Sask.

THE CROW OF CROUP A WARNING TO ALL MOTHERS

Croup starts with a dry cough and rattling in the throat; after which the croupy crow gives warning of the disease. The child, after tossing restlessly about, will start up with a flushed face, protruding eyeballs, and a distressing look of terror and anxiety. There is a struggle for breath, and the expectoration of the mucous matter is so difficult to get rid of that the effort appears to threaten strangulation.

On the first sign of the "croupy crow" mothers should administer Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thus give the child prompt and permanent relief, and perhaps the life saved by taking this precaution.

Mrs. H. A. Lauzbern, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"My little boy was very bad with the croup and I could not get anything to relieve him until I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I cannot praise it too highly for the relief it gave him."

AIRPLANES TO REPLACE STEAMERS IN LINKING STATES AND HAWAII

HONOLULU, Dec. 12.—Regular airplane service between Hawaii and the United States requiring 20 hours should replace within five years the steamship service of five to seven days, according to Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, who was here recently on a tour of inspection.

This service for mail and passengers, he said, was possible with the type of plane now being constructed or planned by the United States. The present type, he said, includes a plane with a flying radius of 3,000 miles with eight or ten engines operating a single propeller.

"Hawaii now possesses the most powerful and most important air service in the Pacific, and the government is awake to the needs of greater development here," he said. "In time the aviation forces will be strengthened in order to make Hawaii a strong defensive arm of the United States in the Pacific."

The islands, he added, form a fertile field for commercial aviation, and there is no reason why regular mail and passenger service among the islands should not be developed immediately.
