PUBLIC SCHOOL FOOTBALL BOYS GIVE BANQUET

Entertain Their Seniors Last Evening in Notable Gathering at St. Regis Cafe

ADDRESSES ON SPORT

One of the most interesting and enjoyable banquets given in the St. Regis Cafe was held last night when the boys comprising the Public Schools Football Team entertained a number of friends at dinner following their victory over the Colts at the Labor Day celebration. A number of toasts were drunk, speeches made and community songs sung and a general air of good fellowship between the boys and their older friends was prevalent. The lads were able to give the spread owing to the fact that they won the twenty-five dollar prize donated by the Trades and Labor Council to the winners of the exhibition game. James R. Mitchell made an excellent toastmaster and kept things moving all the time. Those present in the order of sitting were J. R. Mitchell, W. S. Kergin, H. S. Hurn, Clarence Thomson, Geo. Hill, Alex. Mitchell, Ralph Smith, Vincent Meagher, H. F. Pullen, J. C. Brady, Fred Gilhuly, Bert Morgan, Gordon Parkin, Yashi Kaisuyama, Spiro Gurvich, Mike Comadina, Nick Chenoski, Isa Kaisuyama, George Howe, Alex. Johnson, D. H. Hartness, Dido Gurvich, W. H. Derry, Bill Wrathall, A. K. Lane, Robert Kelly, J. H. Meagher, Clifford Cameron, C. A. Woodworth, S. E. Parker and John Sims.

The Toasts

Mr. Mitchell explained the occasion of the gathering, the toast of the King was drunk, and he then called on S. E. Parker to propose the toast to the Public Schools Football Team. This was received with the singing of "They are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr. Parker told of some of the difficulties in connection with the establishment of playing grounds at the schools. There had this year been so many extraordinary expenses that had eaten up all the money. Mentioning the Sons of Canada of which he was a member, Mr. Parker said that organization had taken a great interest in sport. The young boys would all grow up good citizens of Canada and should give their loyalty to the place where their fathers made a living. He urged them always to go in and win.

H. S. Hurn, supervising principal of the public schools, said he himself was fond of sport and he liked to see it in the schools. He gave some interesting reminiscences of earlier days and said he was glad to hear that there was a public school team here last year. He hoped there would be more than one during the coming year. They would endeavor to make the most of the limited accommodation. He liked to see keenness in the games.

Competition Keen

In proposing the toast of the Prince Rupert Football Association, Fred Gilhuly said he had been a member of the association several years and he took a great interest in it. Competition has been keener in the junior league this year than ever before. If it had not been for the football game he would not have been at the grounds yesterday. He liked to see the youngsters playing rings around the bigger boys. He was always glad to help them in any way he could.

George Hill, president of the association, in replying said one of the most important features of the association had been to start the junior league and they had put up a good brand of football. He paid tribute to the work of Ralph Smith whom he considered one of the best citizens Prince Rupert had. Work such as was being done by Messrs. Smith, Mitchell and others could not be paid for in money. He drew attention to the fact that the juniors were under the Prince Rupert Football Association jurisdiction just as much as the older teams. He hoped the boys would be given every assistance so that home players might be trained instead of imported. They fully appreciated the work the teachers were doing and especially Jimmie Mitchell. He urged the lads to play the game for the game sake and he instanced some teams that had done that even though they lost every time.

Clean Athletics

J. C. Brady proposed "The Trades and Labor Council" in an eloquent speech in which he spoke of the importance of that banquet and of the progress the young city had made along educational lines. People did not always realize the asset they had in the developing of the boys along clean athletic lines. They had the best thinking people of the city with them. He hoped to continue along the lines laid down by Mr. Mitchell and others. He welcomed the two new teachers, H. S. Hurn and A. K. Lane. Both were young men and that was what they needed in the training of youth. He believed the success of the city lay with the schools. He felt it a great honor to be the guest of the young team, and he wished the community would get a better appreciation of the value of clean sport. It gave him great pleasure to propose the toast.

J. H. Meagher, in replying, spoke of the ability of the lads here. He was sorry the Trades and Labor Council had not been able to carry out its full program owing to weather conditions.

In proposing the toast of "Our Rivals" on behalf of the boys and in the absence of Eddie McLean, D. H. Hartness said it was a revelation to him to hear the expressions of feeling in regard to the necessity of clean sport in the development of the young. They could not do without sport. Physical well being came through devotion to sport. He paid tribute to Eddie McLean who headed the school in his studies. They were all proud of his record in the class room and on the team. He noted the stress laid on playing the game for the game's sake. This would stand them in good stead in later years.

True Sport

C. A. Woodworth replied for the High School team. Although they had begun rather late they had done their best. He suggested that they might play football throughout the winter. He would personally do what was possible to promote clean sport. Some of the boys on their team had never played before. They had been beaten every time but they came away without even a grumble. That was true sport.

Ralph Smith for the Colts expressed appreciation of the smaller boys. The older ones lacked combination. Latterly Jack Campbell had coached his team with good results and he thought next year they would have a team that would retain the shield which they now held. It was difficult to get young working boys together. He thought the public should show greater interest in junior sport.

The chairman then thanked all those who had in any way helped to encourage the boys in clean sport, mentioning particularly W. H. Derry, Bert Morgan, Fred Gilhuly and Harold Campbell, the late supervising principal.

Bert Morgan assured them there was none more interested in sport than himself. The future of the nation depended upon their interest in sport. One thing about Prince Rupert boys, they had a good spirit, much better than their seniors. Owing to the lack of older players the youngsters ahd been brought out. This year the amateur spirit had improved and he was a believer in amateur sport.

After a vote of thanks to the chairman, the gathering adjourned.
