Great Saving By Direct Talk.

Direct talk entails a great saving in all walks of life. In wireless it is a benefit in that it saves all the delay and extra work of relaying. It is good news that Prince Rupert wireless station is to be placed on the direct wire circuit.

So it is in other walks of life. When there is anything to be done, any orders to be given or any questions to be asked, there is nothing like direct talk. It saves a lot of worry, mistakes, heart burnings and ill temper and often it saves a lot of money. If there is any trouble, go to the fountain head, to the seat of the trouble and straighten it out at once with direct talk.

Direct talk is the first principle of the new diplomacy of which so much has been heard but which has not yet been put into general use.

Thousand Cars For Canadian National.

The Canadian National Railway is to order a thousand new freight cars, and doubtless a number of passenger cars will also be required in addition to the refrigerator cars that are already being built. This is an intimation that business is on the increase.

Possibly the Railway Company may be able to build some of those cars in their shops at Prince Rupert. With such a fine yard and excellent machinery here, it seems a pity that the new management of the line has not yet been able to utilize them.

Prince Rupert Party Needed.

There are two big political parties, each of which is struggling for supremacy and of which we know a great deal, sometimes too much. There is also a more or less intermittent group which sometimes calls itself the labor party. In addition there is a new movement that is spending a lot of money and using a lot of effort to get itself recognized, known popularly as the McRae party or the capitalist party. All these parties try to tell the electors how they wish to serve them, yet in many instances all they want is to get into power or to down the other party.

These parties are all very well for the high-ups in those parties, but what is needed today is a Prince Rupert party that will tell all the other parties to go to Gehenna unless Prince Rupert gets what is her due. While it is not wise to be insular or to be over selfish, yet it seems necessary to fight our way all the time. None of the parties, as such, care anything about Prince Rupert, except to get the votes of the people. They are not interested in local problems except in so far as these affect the general policies of their party. Parties that are out usually full of promises and criticisms and those that are in put us off as much as possible. If we unite in our demands and positively refuse to support any party that does not deliver the goods locally, we shall make headway.

Why Did He Do It And Who is Behind It?

Why did he write that article and who inspired him to do it? seems to be a very common question when the editor makes anything which looks like a new pronouncement. It never seems to enter the mind of anyone that perhaps the editor sized things up for himself and came to a conclusion. Sometimes this paper takes suggestions and more often it turns them down. There has to be a definite line of policy hewn out with as much consistency as seems desirable. No one has enough influence to turn us from a line of conduct or policy unless it can be shown that the policy is not good for Prince Rupert.

SMITHERS HAD CHURCH PICNIC

Anglican Pastor Proves Hero of the Day in Rescuing Young Boy From Lake Kathlyn

SMITHERS, July 17. — There was a large attendance of parents and children at the annual picnic put on by the churches of the town on Thursday last.

Lake Kathlyn, the value of which as a summer resort is fast being realized, was the scene of the affair and many cars were kindly furnished to convey the crowd to and fro.

The usual goodies to be found at picnics were on hand and the youngsters put forth every effort to avoid taking anything back. Games and sports were indulged in to the enjoyment of all while, needless to say, swimming and bathing held first place.

While all were busily engaged in various ways it appears that some children went playing on the wharf and, in the exuberance of childish delight, one little girl accidentally pushed a boy, Baarnman Kuntson, into the water. Unfortunately Baarnman couldn't swim but Rev. R. E. W. Biddell quickly sized up the situation and, without divesting himself of any clothing, plunged into the lake and rescued the lad who, outside of fright, was none the worse for his sudden immersion. His rescuer was forced to "remain in the shade" while his clothing was being dried.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

IF you would be in the swim it's a good idea to take a bathing suit along.

IT'S a funny thing that the girls with artificial complexions can't swim.

BUT those who do swim are duly thankful.

THE success of a picnic is often gauged by the number of empty bottles left in the bush.

SOME men seem particularly gifted for making fools of themselves without being a member of a fool's union.

HEADLINE reads "Millions of dollars fall in rains." Hope the next shower we get will be of that variety.

MOTOR boating would then perhaps be a real pleasure.

COMPETITIONS in making clam chowders is the latest summer sport. The chief ingredient is a liquid called cascade according to the latest receipt to hand.

THE salutation of the hour is "Have you clam chowdered?"

A GOOD idea for motor boat owners with leaky dinghys is to draw the shore towards the boat when landing instead of trying to reach the shore with a match-box sort of arrangement.

UNDER TWO FLAGS IN PICTURE HERE

Famous Ouida Eoic is Filmed and is Popular as the Novel

"Under Two Flags" is one of the few, really great stories.

A love epic immortal, a tragedy sublime, "Under Two Flags" captured the heart of the world when it came as a novel from the pen of Ouida (Louise de La Ramee), and its growth in popularity was heightened by its presentation on the stage by many renowned artists, including Blanche Bates. Now it has been made into a picture by the Universal Film Co. and will be seen here Wednesday at the Westholme Theatre. Priscilla Dean, than whom there is no more magnetic figure on the screen, breathes the fire of her dynamic personality into the role of Cigarette, idol of a French regiment at Algiers.

There are street scenes in "Under Two Flags" that give a true insight of the life of the masses in this French province of Northern Africa. The military pomp of an army post is accurately presented. And the oppressive luxury surrounding the pampered beauties of a sheik's harem add picturesque color to this dramatic film.

Mrs. J. G. Steen is leaving on tonight's train for Lake Kathlyn where she will spend a week or so visiting with Mrs. Olof Hansen at the latter's summer home.

WAITRESS' ROMANCE IS "ANNA ASCENDS"

Alice Brady Has Dramatic Role in New Photoplay

One would hardly expect to find thrilling romance as a waitress in a coffee house; but Alice Brady does in "Anna Ascends," her new picture coming this evening.

This photoplay is a screen version of the well known stage play of the same name, in which Miss Brady scored heavily in New York several years ago.

"Anna Ascends" is the delightful story of a Syrian girl who comes to this country and gets a job as a waitress in a coffee house in New York. She has a little dictionary, which she studies at every opportunity. When Howard Fisk, son of a wealthy newspaper publisher, comes to the restaurant to run down a tip that jewels from Russia are being smuggled into the United States from Constantinople, she becomes greatly interested in him.

The jewels are smuggled into the country in a coffee shipment and exciting action follows for Anna and Howard when the former discovers that the gems are hidden in the coffee. In a struggle with a crooked baron, Anna stabs him with a knife. The dramatic restitution she attempts to make for this provides a moving appeal.

STRONGHEART IS THE WONDERFUL DOG IN BRAWN OF THE NORTH

Fights With Wolves and Saves Infant in Picture Shown at Week-end

"Brawn of the North" the week-end offering here, tells a thrilling story wherein Strongheart plays the part of Brawn, a dog owned by Marion Wells. Marion takes him with her when she goes into the north country to aid her brother and fiancee to develop a mine. The fiancee has exposed himself as a dissolute rascal and his cruelty to Brawn leads to a fight on the trail in which the brother is killed and the fiancee escapes the vengeance of Brawn by apparently drowning in an icy stream.

In seeking help, Marion meets Peter Coe. Then follows a period of happiness as they spend a honeymoon in the wilds and fortune crowns their efforts. The wolves of the country drive them back toward civilization and their sled dogs run away carrying their baby with them. Brawn goes to the rescue and then follows action as thrilling as was ever put into a motion picture.

In the picture Strongheart is a dog of almost dual personality—in one flash savagely fighting attacking wolves, and, in the next gently caressing a helpless infant lost on the open snows. Strongheart's every mood is shown together with a series of emotions which he expresses with his face and by gesture. On more than one occasion, when a fight between Strongheart and the leader of the pack was being photographed, Mr. Trimble was called upon to use all his persuasive power to convince Strongheart all he wanted for picture purposes was a badly beaten wolf and not a dead one.
