Saintey, arriving here on Friday morning from the south with 264 tourists on a special excursion trip to Alaska, will tie up at the G.T.P. wharf in order to use the unloading apparatus there. The steamer will be in port from 8 in the morning until noon, it is expected.

Henry Calderwood, quartermaster on the lighthouse steamer Newington, returned this week from Victoria with his bride, formerly Miss Mary Robertson of Victoria. The wedding took place last week in St. Columba Church, Oak Bay, Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood are taking up their residence in the Steele Block, Third Avenue West.

Twelve hours behind schedule, the Union steamer Cardena, Capt. A. E. Dickson, returned from Anyox and Stewart at 4 o'clock this morning and sailed at 5 for Vancouver and way ports. The new steamer will make up time going south, it is expected, and should arrive in Vancouver not far behind schedule. Heavy freight business occasioned her delay this voyage.

In a recent conversation with Mr. Lockhart of the Universal Trading Co., he asked if anyone thought it possible to send to a mail order house for a pair of eye-glasses and expect satisfaction? He claims the same thing applies to shoes. That it is impossible to get fitted properly, unless you buy at home. He says the foot is equally important as the eye and that eye troubles have frequently been traced to arch trouble caused by ill fitting shoes. Feet differ and require experienced fitting. As Mr. Lockhart will be here only a few weeks more, he is anxious to give the public of Prince Rupert the benefit of his experience in shoe fitting. Take your troubles to him.

In the Crow's Nest

CROW'S NEST—ON THE WAY TO CROW'S NEST—THE HIGHEST WOODEN BRIDGE IN THE WORLD.

Rolling up to the Crow's Nest Pass are olive green foothills without a tree upon them—natural cattle runs thick with succulent short grass. Here are seen occasional outcrops of rock, which in their four or five feet of height show all the characteristics of a mountain range; miniatures of the Rockies, with crag and precipice and col reproduced on the smallest scale. With a bag of salt one could lay on glaciers, touch the peaks with white and have a toy range which any Eastern schoolteacher could set up in her classroom with advantage to herself and her pupils. Canadians east of Medicine Hat know too little about the construction of this Continent and about the glorious engineering of Nature.

Consider the Crow's Nest itself. The name brings before some of us a schedule of railway-rates; to others, a series of coal mines. These are derivative impressions. The original Crow's Nest is a mountain rising to 9,000 feet and more above sea-level and visible for many miles. The rock-peak, as one looks from the foothills is set like a fuzzy, round crow's-nest on the sky-line. Leading up to it are the olive-green billows fading into a soft blue haze.

In the distance near the peak is a snow-white precipice, which they tell us is two miles wide and a mile high. It is all excellence and loveliness until one travels twenty miles farther. Then it gloms like the fangs of a wolf. It is the rock-face of Turtle Mountain, cleft from top to bottom, in 1905 to the destruction of the mining town of Frank.

To-day the whole valley, two miles wide, is a tempestuous chaos of white stone blocks, some of them as big as a house, all with jagged edges and sharp corners. They are piled from fifty to one hundred feet high above the original valley level. The railway line climbs over the top. Beneath it lies the broken city. On either side of the avalanche stand the deserted houses, windows out, glaring like skulls upon the newer town. The whole valley spells terror and tragedy. Even yet people talk of Pompeii and Herculaneum, but they are like to forget the more terrible fate of Frank when rock by millions of tons fell a mile out of the sky.

This Maple Leaf Tells Time in the Dark The famous Ingersoll Maple Leaf equipped for telling time in the dark. Convenient under the pillow at night. $3.00

Ingersoll Waterbury—$5 The 12-egg, jewelled Ingersoll Enamel dial. Also comes with Radiolite figures and hands, and "silver" dial at $6.00.

HAVE you a good watch?

If not, go see the Ingersoll line of timekeepers at any store that carries Ingersolls.

Ingersolls keep good time—and that after all is the real purpose of a watch. They are good-looking, but not fancy—unless you would call a Reliance in a beautifully engraved gold-filled case "fancy."

The prices range from $2.00 to $12.00. About half the models are Radiolites that tell time in the dark. You can choose to fit your own needs and pocket book.

INGERSOLL WATCH CO., Inc. 149 St. Catherine St., East Montreal, P. Q.

Reliance $7.50 A real 7-jewelled watch. Same solid bridge-construction as used in expensive watches. Also in gold-filled case at $12.
