In view of the present financial condition of the Union Mr. McDiarmid tendered his resignation as parliamentary agent. He said he left the Union with regret. Finances made it impossible to carry on. The convention held in Victoria had absorbed all the finances of the Union which was in dehl to the Parliamentary Agent. The turning down of the fee assessed by the executive made it impossible to carry on. He could not in justice to himself or family go on in that way. Unless the finances were arranged they must count him out. He objected to paying out his own money for

A vote of thanks was then tendered Mr. McDiarmid and he left for a trip to Anyox with Mrs. McDiarmid.
