Orange Ladies Entertain Children In Afternoon and Adults in Evening

The Loyal Orange Lodge and the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association celebrated the Christmas season yesterday at the Oddfellows

In the afternoon, children over five years of age were taken to the matinee at the Capitol Theatre after which all returned to the hall and has been very much appreciawhere supper was served. This was followed by the playing of games and a visit from Santa Claus who had gifts and sweets for all. About 1932 A.D., meaning AFTER DEeighty children were in attendance. PRESSION.

In the evening, there was a social and dance for parents and friends. Music for dancing was furnished by Mrs. J. S. Black. Delicious refreshments were served.

The committee in charge of the proceedings consisted of Mrs. J. S. Black, convener, Mrs. George Geddes, Mrs. H. B. Eastman, Mrs. W. E. Denning, Mrs. J. G. Viereck and Mrs. J. R. Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Nelson of the Fleet Cafe sailed last evening on the Prince Rupert for a holiday visit in Seattle.

MESSAGE OF PEACE

To Members of Rotary Club At Their Luncheon

given by Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix, Bishop backs and come-backs, is told with of Caledonia, in an address to the pathos, heart-ache, rich humor and Rotary Club at its luncheon yes- good thrills in "The Big Timer. terday afternoon in which he re- which is the week-end feature offerred to the time of the war when !. men and women were keenly anxious for their sons and daughters and women feared to see their sons growing up when they too might be going away to give their lives in the terrible strife. He emphasized that this carnage was not by the will of God. His will was that humanity should be at peace. God was the perfection of love, honor and justice but wars were the result of pride, vain glory and ambition.

The speaker also referred to the bitterness which the war engendered but which had to be eradicated. In view of the facts he excused United States for its hesitation about entering the war. This was a season when all hatred should be eradicated.

The Bishop mentioned the evil of telling children that God was to be feared. He always urged them never to be afraid of God. He told a story to illustrate his point from one of Ian MacLaren's books.

There was a large attendance of members and a number of visitors. At the conclusion President George Woodland thanked the Bishop for his timely and splendid message.
