CONQUER EVEREST

Hazardous Aerial Journey to be Taken by Lord Clydesdale is Keenly Anticipated

LONDON, Dec. 24: (Canadian Press)—Flying men have never planned a more picturesque endeavor than the assault on Mount Everest which—if negotiations now in progress are carried through—will be made by British pilots within the next few months. Highest of the world's mountain peaks, the Himalayan giant has defied many gallant climbing expeditions; most of them retired when still thousands of feet from the summit, though it is possible that two British climbers reached the peak a few years ago. When last seen by their comrades they were going strong for the top—but they never came back.

At first sight the task before the flying party is comparatively simple. Everest rises 29,000 feet above sea-level. The world's height record, by aeroplane, established last fall by Cyril Unwins in a British biplane, is 43,976 feet, nearly three miles higher than the summit. But the mountain lies remote in the heart of a terrific range of peaks many of which rival it in stature, in a region where a forced landing would mean destruction and where blow winds of hurricane force. Further, the head of the giant is the home of tremendous storms, and vast frozen cloud masses shroud the peak from view for many months of the year.

Is Chief Pilot

Chief pilot of the expedition is the Marquis of Douglas and Clydesdale, a member of Parliament, squadron leader in the Auxiliary Air Force and well known amateur boxer. Lady Houston, whose gift of $500,000 enabled the United Kingdom to enter for the Schneider Trophy contest in 1931, is providing the funds.

The joint organizers of the flight are Colonel P. T. Etherton, who has travelled widely in Central Asia and the Himalayas, and Colonel V. S. Blacker, the latter being in charge of the flying operations.

The aeroplane most obviously fitted for the flight is the high-flying Vickers "Vespa" craft powered with a Bristol "Pegasus" motor which Mr. Unwins took to the stratosphere when he set the new world's aeroplane height record. Negotiations are going forward to secure the use of this machine and another similar craft.

Two aeroplanes are likely to ascend together, one to make the actual flight over the summit, the other to take a photographic record of the attempt, an obvious difficulty being that of securing adequate evidence that the peak is actually flown over. The flyers will wear specially heated clothing of the kind worn by Mr. Unwins on his recent flights above 40,000 feet and they will breathe through oxygen apparatus.

Coupled with the preliminary flying trials, or perhaps preceding them, may be an attempt of Mr. Unwins to reach a height still greater than that now officially recognized as the world's record. He is confident that his aeroplane can climb 2,000 or more feet higher than it has yet done.

NO FURTHER BILLIARDS

No further games were played last night in the Junior Billiard League. It is expected that several will be run off over the forthcoming holiday week-end.
