W. & F. Out Hunting

The Canadian schooner W. & on Friday night last with a party of local business and professional celebrities to indulge in a little last minute hunt in the vicinity of Porcher Island.

The party included Doctor L. W.

Burns and N. M. McLean. The bag of game included ducks and geese and a very enjoyable time was spent by all. Doc proved himself an expert with the rifle and gave several lessons to his fellow hunters in the art of aiming and dropping the game.

One of the members of the party after giving a lecture on scouting, lost himself by mistake, and was eventually located taking forty winks under a nice dry tree. The searchers might have been looking for the lost one yet but for the fact that a herd of middle of January at Seattle, And h.p. Enterprise Diesel, which is expected to give her greater speed than any vessel now fishing halibut. The idea has been steadily gaining ground among the American vessel owners that it is a good policy to have plenty of reserve power so that the boat can be speeded up in emergencies without overloading the engine. The increased speed will also give her more days of fishing on the distant banks.

The Seattle is skippered by H. pounds of halibut on December
