BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McMan

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

WHEN you hear about "the girl of his choice" you know it means the girl who chose him.

ONCE upon a time there was a young man asked an older man for the hand of his daughter. He got it. And every afterwards whenever anything went wrong in the young man's household, he got the hand of that daughter.

THE way to tell a Welshman is to ask him to pronounce Brachypwll.

A FARMER on one of the islands says you can raise anything on an island farm except two bits. The next hardest thing to raise is four bits.

Pity the good. They all die young.

Pity the printers. They never die.

Pity the editors. They are dead already, if you can believe the readers of the papers.

Pity the people who are not in the newspaper business. They never lived.

I'd like to be a farmer
And raise a pretty calf;
I'd like to be a funny man
Who could easily raise a laugh;
But best of all I'd like to be
The man who'd early rise,
To guess the football winners
And carry off the prize.

The longest ski-slide in the world, extending over 60 miles, has been opened near Oberhof in Germany. The course is laid out on an old road winding through the hills of the Thuringian forest. A large number of entries have been made for the regular ski races of the winter which are held on the new slide this month.

Lovers of golf in Mexico City are to have a new pasture in which to pursue their pleasure. A new country club has been organized there, rivaling the old Churubusco Club, which was founded in the days before the revolution and was considered one of the finest in Latin-America. The Churubusco club house has been remodelled and society in great numbers has been flocking to it. The new club is closer to the city and already enough members have joined to ensure its success.

Wilson Chambers, of Welland,

Ont., 72 years old, is still as fond of skating as he was half a century ago and he still has the pair of Dutch skates used by his father. Every winter for 55 years, when ice formed to safe thickness of the Chippewa River, Mr. Chambers has skated from his home at River Bent to Welland, a distance of about ten miles. The ice was fine and clear of snow this winter and Mr. Chambers made the round trip of 20 miles in an hour and a half.

The roads around Essen were recently choked with French infantry, slow moving tanks, machine gun companies and batteries of "seventy-fives," all entering the Ruhr. A group of newspaper correspondents was rejoicing that the occupation had been accomplished with no clashes or loss of life. Then at a point near Ratingen the observers came upon a large crowd of Germans in an open field, shouting, gesticulating and evidently greatly excited. "Here is where the trouble begins," was the general feeling as the battalion of French infantry swung down the road close to the noisy Germans. But nothing happened except that the Germans continued their uproar. A correspondent who always insists on getting facts investigated and learned that the Germans were workingmen from a steel mill applauding a friendly game of football between two picked mill teams during the dinner hour.

Tokyo wrestlers are now on strike and the Japanese fans of the mat game are now compelled to do without their most popular form of indoor sport. The wrestlers' association demands an increase of five percent in the incomes of all active members and a 100 per cent advance in the pensions of retired wrestlers. The officials have refused to grant these demands and, as a result, the famous Ryozoku contests, one of the most important sporting events of the year in Japan, have been cancelled. Asked if this dispute was considered as a phase of the labor troubles now general throughout Japan, the Tokio police department said that the strike might be considered similar to the walkout of the Geisha girls and that there is no danger to the general peace of the community so long as it could get along for a few weeks without witnessing any professional wrestling bouts.

Keen to take the measure of the husky basketballers in the smelter town but assured that doing so will be no light task, the Colts, Senior League basketball champion team, sails tonight on the Prince George for Anyox and tomorrow evening the first Prince Rupert-Anyox basketball game of the season will be played.
