SUTHERLAND ANNOUNCES ACTION ON ROAD

POWERFUL ADDRESS OF ARCHBISHOP DU VERNET TO SYNOD THIS MORNING

Road to Canneries is Being Surveyed; May be Started This Fall

"There is a man at work surveying the route for a road to the canneries at the mouth of the Skeena River and he will prepare an estimate of cost which will be submitted to the government and I should not be surprised if work were to commence on the building of the road this year," stated Hon. Dr. Sutherland, minister of public works, to a Daily News representative last before leaving for Prince George. "Mr. Pattullo has been hammering away at this road proposition for a long time and on every possible occasion. While we do not feel that there would be justification for building the road up the Skeena River at present, we do think the canneries should be connected with the city by road and the government would be justified in building the road that far. A survey of the routes up the Skeena River will have to be made to determine the most feasible way to connect with Terrace when the time comes to proceed, and the part of the road which is built on Kaien Island will be a part of that highway no matter which way it goes afterwards. It must go by way of Galloway Rapids."

Dr. Sutherland mentioned that the Provincial government realized the position in which Prince Rupert found herself in regard to roads and was anxious to do what was possible. The difficulty was that there was so little money to spend on public works and there were so many claims on the government in places where roads were an absolute necessity to settlers in order to get to and from their farms. Now, however, it was time Prince Rupert was getting attention.

RAILWAY TO PEACE RIVER

The minister of public works also mentioned that the city had a great deal of work to do to connect up with the provincial road. There was a long stretch to be built by them before the provincial road could be used. The department did not propose to wait any longer for this but would go ahead and commence the road as soon as possible.

REDUCE FREIGHT RATES

OTTAWA, June 27.—The feasibility of the projected railway from Peace River to connect with the main line of the National railway system in order to tap the extensive fields of anthracite or semi-anthracite coal existing in Northern Alberta and British Columbia is suggested in a final report of the Senate Committee, which has been investigating Canada's fuel supply. The committee recommends that the Dominion Fuel Board be empowered to co-operate with transportation and other interests with a view to reducing freight rates and increasing to the utmost the use of Canadian coal in Canada and educating the public to the use of Canadian coal.

OTTAWA, June 27.—After opposition amendments were defeated, the bill to provide for the construction of Canadian National branch lines and a bill to empower the Government to prohibit the export of pulpwood if deemed necessary was given a third reading in the House of Commons.

Two amendments of A. R. McMaster, independent, to protest against the principle of granting bounties to encourage Canadian industries were defeated. The Senate gave third reading to the Bank Act after several amendments had been defeated. Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Tait sailed last night on the Chelohsin for Surf Inlet where they will spend a holiday.

A report concerning trades union and socialist elements within the British labor party is ready to be filed showing that socialists control the party machine, though the membership is less than one per cent of the total. Bill Contemplated to do Away With Court of Appeals as Separate Entity

VICTORIA, June 27.—A bill proposing radical changes in the status of the British Columbia courts will be introduced in the Legislature at the autumn session this year. A group of lawyers from Vancouver and Victoria are said to be preparing a bill which seeks to abolish the present court of appeal and to compel all judges to take their turn as trial judges and to create an appellate division in which three judges shall sit on appeals as required once a month to hear appeals from the final judgments only and to create an additional court known as a divisional court consisting of two judges for disposal of interlocutory appeals to obviate delay in hearing appeals.

Except for the last mentioned court, no bench would be made up of an even number of judges. The bill also seeks to place further limitations on appeals from country court judgments, which appeals are becoming very numerous.

Fresh Statement on Essence of Christianity in Address by Archbishop to Synod Today

The outlook for spiritual religion is full of promise, said Archbishop Du Vernet in his annual address to the Anglican Synod at St. Andrew's Church this morning. The philosophy of visible materialism is everywhere giving place to the philosophy of invisible energy. Men are beginning to realize that all energy whether it be radiant, vital, mental, or moral flows from a common source, and that this source is spiritual. It is the destiny of the material to be the manifestation of the spiritual but matter in itself can never be the ultimate reality. God is Infinite Energy in ceaseless activity, ever creating with wisdom and goodness. The highest form of energy known to us is love, and love is always the outcome of personality. God is Love. God is Light. God is Spirit. When this is our conception of God we have no difficulty in realizing how He is unceasingly operating through all the electric energy, all the vital energy, all the mental energy, and all the moral energy in this universe. "Heaven and earth are full of His Glory."

In God, we live and move and have our being. In us, God lives and moves and manifests His Energy. In Christ, God gives us the supreme revelation of His Infinite Love. The essence of Christianity is the Spirit of Christ, and only as we possess and manifest this Spirit are we worthy of being called Christians. This Spirit should be the great bond helping to bind together all

Oriental Immigration is Discussed in Parliament Action re Japan Delayed

OTTAWA, June 27.—An act respecting Chinese immigration as amended was given a third reading in the Senate after an important amendment of Senator Willoughby which would have permitted the wives and minor children of Chinese to be admitted to Canada was withdrawn. Willoughby claimed this amendment would meet the wishes of the Chinese authorities and was in harmony with the prime minister's intentions.

A storm of protest from British Columbia senators that the amendment would practically be giving B.C. to China brought support from the government leader who asked that the amendment be withdrawn. As a result of negotiations between representatives of the Japanese and Canadian governments it is expected there will be a very substantial reduction in the number of Oriental immigrants to Canada during the next few months. If this reduction should not materialize the question of further restricting this class of immigrant may be taken up at the next session of parliament. This information was conveyed in the reply of Premier King to A. W. Neill of Comox-Alberni in the House of Commons this morning when Neill asked regarding the fate of the negotiations between the two governments. B.C. wanted to know what to expect, Neill said.

Mackenzie King said that when the matter was brought up it was pointed out by representatives of the Japanese government that legislation of that kind might be misunderstood in Japan. The Japanese government while desirous of furthering the wishes of Canada wished to avoid unrest in Japan. The matter was therefore dealt with by negotiation.
