

Two Planting Methods To Keep Bulbs Over Winter

The Dutch Method of Planting Bulbs is Used When There Are No Other Plants to Consider

There are two methods of planting fall bulbs. This is a necessary planting fall bulbs. When method when tulips are to be planted in the perennial border, used to form a pattern, in the among other plants, a hole style still popular in Europe and should be dug for each bulb formerly practiced here. Even with a trowel. Be sure that the hole is large enough so that the bulb rests on the soil, and there is no air pocket beneath it.

This is called the Dutch method, because it was used in Holland not only for garden beds, but also in the tulip fields. When the soil is filled in above the bulbs, it should be heaped up an inch or two higher than the surrounding surface to allow for settling, and prevent a depression in which water might stand.

If an entire bed, or border space is to be planted to bulbs, it may be evacuated to the required depth, and the bulbs placed on the floor of the excavation in the desired arrange-

LEGION W.A. TO HAVE BUSY WEEK

Activities of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary for the next seven days will make the period preceding and following Remembrance Day a solid "Legion Week" auxiliary members learned at their monthly meetings last night.

The auxiliary will take leadership, or an active interest in, a series of events which begin tomorrow with the sale of poppies on downtown streets, and will conclude next Friday night with a social for legion members, their wives and auxiliary members.

Last night's meeting approved plans for the series of functions which were presented by Mrs. Fred Barber who attended an executive meeting of the men's group last week. The schedule presented was as follows:

Saturday—Tag day, with school children and auxiliary members selling tags under joint convenership of S. A. Cheeseman and Mrs. Dan Partent.

Sunday—Church parade. Monday—Annual bazaar and sale under convenership of Mrs. A. Murray.

Tuesday—Men's smoking concert, with auxiliary members catering.

Thursday—Card party at the Legion Hall with Mrs. J. S. Black convener, assisted by Mrs. G. V. Hanley, Mrs. Wright Davis and Mrs. W. J. Lineham.

Friday—Social for Legion members, their wives and auxiliary members with Mrs. William Rothwell as convener.

Wednesday night, the only evening on which the auxiliary will not be active, will be given over to the regular meeting of the Canadian Legion.

A feature of the bazaar and sale, it was reported, will be a fancy-work stall under charge of Miss Edith Gandy, who will sell needlework and knitted goods made by herself, turning the proceeds over to the auxiliary.

The meeting named Mrs. E. Morrow as convener of the Christmas tree party which will be held in late December. It was reported that the names of 200 children of Legion members
