Let's have FACTS...
... NOT BUNK ABOUT "BILL 39"

THE BUNK...

WITHOUT saying WHY they are opposing it, certain interests in British Columbia carry on a noisy campaign of abuse and misrepresentation of British Columbia's Labor Laws.

"Slavery!" they cry.

"Bill 39 takes away labor's right to strike!"

This name-calling ignores the facts and appeals to either prejudice or emotion—not to common sense.

The potent fact about Bill 39 is that, if enforced and observed, it will end the condition in which a few people, by show-of-hands votes at small, unrepresentative meetings or by other questionable balloting methods can call strikes which affect large numbers of employees and injure the public welfare. Is there anything wrong with giving to working men and women the privileges of the secret ballot?

THESE ARE THE FACTS...

about British Columbia's Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, 1947—so-called Bill 39:—

1 It is labor legislation that has evolved through the years in British Columbia to ensure (a.) employees and employers alike a square deal; (b.) to protect the interests of the rank and file of the public against lost production and industrial income through avoidable strikes. No one claims it is perfect legislation. It is always open to amendment by the representatives of the people by orderly and democratic processes in order to improve it.

2 It does NOT take away the employees' right to strike. As in the past, it DOES provide that before a strike can legally be called, every effort to arrive at a peaceful settlement by conciliation or arbitration must be put forth. THIS IS A FEATURE OF LAWS GOVERNING INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS EVERYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA. The alternative is a return to the industrial warfare of 30 years ago. Most of the recent strikes in British Columbia have been called without complying with the law on conciliation.

3 Bill 39 DOES provide for a secret supervised ballot of all employees affected, after conciliation, before a strike can be called legally in their name.

WHY IS THE SECRET BALLOT OPPOSED?
