MILLER BAY SCHOOL

read. He is thirteen and is now learning to read so he can read his letters from home for himself. Edgar and Solomon occupy beds in the same room and the age of eight. They are interested in adding and subtracting at present. When they feel less well then usually they do not ask to be excused but bend willing minds to arithmetic, only a little wearily.

This is Education Week, so think sometimes in it of the children at Miller Bay, working in a new language and with handicaps of illness and pain to become Canadians in spirit and deed. They cannot sing "God Save The King" and "O Canada," but they learn these national hymns and try to understand the meaning. They may not write about the world outside, for many of them there is no outside, but they look from the windows in their rooms and write about what they know is beyond Miller Bay and the trees and the hills and they all love Canada.

Charles Smith, lighthouse-keeper at Cape St. James, after spending a month's vacation in the city, made the round trip to Massett at the week-end aboard the Cassiar and proceeded on the same steamer last night to Queen Charlotte City enroute back to his lighthouse post.

MOOSE WHIST, DANCE ENJOYED

Moose Lodge was host Saturday night to a pleasant gathering of members and friends who enjoyed an evening of card playing and dancing in the Moose Temple, Second Avenue. The early part of the evening was given over to whist and the latter part to dancing, with music by Steven's orchestra. Prize winners at whist were Mrs. A. Grimble and Mrs. A. Dumas in the ladies section and Percy Bond and Mr. Weatherby for the men. Prizes were distributed during the refreshment intermission. William Terry chairman of the entertainment committee was in charge of the affair.

Oliver H. Bell, manager of Pacific Tractor and Equipment Co., and former regional director of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is leaving on the Coquitlam Tuesday to return to Vancouver after a brief business trip to the city. He is accompanied by Mrs. Bell.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHUEY

Q. How can I repair a break in the hemstitching of a scarf?
A. This can be done by crocheting a very narrow insertion. Insert it in place of the hemstitching, but care should be taken that the center of the stitching is cut so as to leave a finished edge to which the lace is to be sewn.
