

EFFICIENCY HAS REWARD

Alina Hoen of New York is a very efficient person. If not, she wouldn't be enjoying herself for "three grand days" at famed Jasper Park Lodge up the Canadian Rockies. Her original vacation plans had called for two weeks with relatives in Baltimore. But Alina's competency changed all that and the two weeks at Baltimore will be only part of a seven-week holiday.

Back in 1929 a thoughtful and wealthy depositor of the City Bank Farmers' Trust Company, New York, established a trust fund from which each accumulated $1,000 was to be awarded to the most efficient employee of the firm. Miss Hoen is just that. Selected by the company itself, she is latest employee to win the award.

A proviso is that the money must be used for vacation purposes and suggests Europe if possible. Alina, however, wanted to see Canada's Golden West. A Canadian National Railways passenger agent drew up an itinerary and she boarded the Montreal train at New York June 9. From Montreal she crossed Canada to Vancouver. A quick change there and she was on the steamer for Alaska. Then back again and by rail to Jasper—and her only remorse.

Even a dream holiday is not perfect. Her short stay at Jasper Park Lodge ends soon and Miss Hoen is not happy. "I can't see how anything before me can be as nice," she says but realizes that last-minute changes in travel plans are disrupting and will keep to her schedule until July 28, bowing to efficiency.

On that day, the charming and attractive vice-president's secretary will have to turn her able mind once more to business. Unfortunately for her though, she is not eligible for a second award.

FORMER C.P.R. MAN REVISITS

"I hardly recognized the waterfront. Changes have certainly been numerous," remarked P. I. Peters, a former resident of Prince Rupert, shortly after arrival of the Princess Adelaide last evening. Mr. Peters, it will be recalled by many local old timers, was in the employ of the C.P.R. in Prince Rupert for years and, while he has been back since, a considerable time has elapsed since his last visit.

Construction and operation of the cellanese plant at Port Edward, he feels, will be of first importance in development of city and port.

ARE OCCUPYING KING'S COTTAGE

JASPER—On their second visit to Jasper Park Lodge, the Governor-General and his party are occupying Outlook Cottage which commands a magnificent view of the surrounding peaks and in which, during their visit to Jasper while touring the Dominion, stayed Their Majesties, the King and Queen.

The Alexander children—Rose, Shane and Brian—are also familiar with their holiday ground because of their stay here last summer. This time, the children have a new playmate, curly-haired little Peter Smith, a friend of the family who accompanied them on the trip.

For the vacation the Governor-General has made no day-to-day schedule but for them during the next ten days there will be motoring, walking, swimming in the heated Lodge pool and a variety of other occupations to make their visit an enjoyable one.

A skilled golfer and member of the Hole-in-One Club, there is little doubt that Viscountess Alexander will play the picturesque 18-hole course and His Excellency, an avid painter, has planned a trip to the Maligne District to capture its beauty and charm with brush and easel.

ANGLO-SOVIET AMITY—The men who guide the destinies of their respective nations may not always agree with each other, but these two youngsters, children of United Nations officials are in perfect accord as they enjoy a day together at Steeplechase Park, Coney Island, N.Y., amusement centre. The children are Roy Stephens of Devonshire, Eng, whose dad is Renold Stephens of the United Nations documents department, and Eugenia Safonov of Russia, whose father is Dmitri Safonov of the U.N.'s radio division. Here they partake of hot dogs and soda pop, which they share. Clown Angelo Brienza locks on.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Fishing industry on the Pacific Coast is entirely strike-free today. All types of fishing are now fair. The last dispute was that involving some halibut fishing boats which had left for the No. 3 grounds without signing up with the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union. These have since signed up.

With a capacity list of 106 round trip tourists, Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Alex McLennan, arrived in port at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, sailing at 6 p.m. for Ketchikan via Portland Canal.

The vessel sailed from San Francisco for Indo-China, without ever coming here, it would nevertheless, have meant considerable voyaging toward the north. There was relatively little time lost in making the call here.

The smart-looking new mission boat "Messenger III," for service on the west coast of Vancouver Island has been placed in commission by the Shantymen's Christian Association.

The freighter Hawaiian, which called here to load tugboats built in Ontario for delivery to Indo-China, arrived in Prince Rupert from San Francisco. Had the vessel sailed from San Francisco for Indo-China, without ever coming here, it would nevertheless, have meant considerable voyaging toward the north. There was relatively little time lost in making the call here.

Two liners of the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia Coast Steamship Service were in port yesterday. The Princess Louise, Capt. P. L. Leslie, arrived at 10 a.m. from Vancouver, sailing at noon for Skagway and other Alaska points whence she is due back here Saturday afternoon southbound. Practically all of a capacity list of passengers were round trip tourists and none disembarked here. Last night at 9 o'clock the Princess Adelaide, Capt. William Hubenet, arrived from Vancouver, sailing at midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. There was the customary large list of tourists on the Adelaide and they made the most of what was left of the day.

The United States battleship Iowa, which spent almost a week at Vancouver, sailed from there yesterday with but little space to spare between the top of her masts and the bottom of the harbor bridge. While in port, it was necessary for her to keep two times—daylight saving, in deference to Vancouver, and standard, or official.

Fish Popular In Restaurants Here

Judging from what local restaurant men say, the enjoyment of fish is pretty general among their patrons. They are fish-conscious and eat it fried, baked, boiled, steamed.

Pioneer Japanese Succumbs In South

There died recently at Christina Lake, in the Cascade country, 34-year-old Hideo Fukuya, who was born and brought up at the Premier mine. He lived in and around Stewart until he was fifteen, later moving with his family to Vancouver. He was quite an athlete. He died from the effects of heart disease.
