Bell Which Clanged Out in Early Days is Freed From Fire Hall

The city's ancient fire bell, that veteran of many which figuratively was pushed from its perch by that new-fangled invention, the siren, came down from its tower this week when the job of rebuilding the fire bell was completed.

The bell, which stood more than 100 years ago, was hoisted late in 1910 and in 1911 it clanged as a warning of fires which almost always came from the mill.

In 1943, city council decided that the answer to juvenile delinquency was a curfew and the bell was called back into service to ring out the home-going hour for small fry. It chimed a slightly sour note, however.

Looking back on the matter now, certain city firemen admit that maybe they didn't give the old bell much of a chance. They could, they admit, have been a bit more punctual in pulling the rope at 9:30 but then those were confused times and one couldn't be too critical even if, as on one occasion, the bell was not rung until 11:45.

TRAGEDY IN VICTORIA

A seventeen-year-old girl was burned yesterday when her brother passed a lit match to her. The girl was in a hospital of severe burns. Her home at Beaverton is about 15 miles north of the Saanich road.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Wilfrid Saddler, is in hospital with severe burns. She was rescued by a fireman who was frustrated in an attempt to reach the little girl who was sleeping upstairs in her room when the fire broke out in the living room below from clothes in the stove.

ALL-WOMEN CANADIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA IN NEW YORK—Members of Montreal Women's Symphony Orchestra, who made their U.S. debut at Carnegie Hall on October 22, are shown following their arrival at Grand Central Station, New York. The 80-piece organization is the only symphony orchestra in North America composed entirely of women and conducted by a woman, Ethel Stark, internationally known concert violinist. Their appearance in New York marks the first time that a major Canadian symphony orchestra has ever played in the United States.

All this sub-group is Arab or Moslem or both.

Langleecrag Crew Safe

Have Been Landed at Missionary Outpost in Newfoundland
ST. ANTHONY, Newfoundland (CP)—Forty-one British seamen rested today at this international Grenfell mission outpost after a five-day ordeal of being marooned on a barren rock on Newfoundland's northern tip after the Hull freighter Langleecrag went ashore on Saturday and broke in half. They were brought here last night by the Norwegian whaler Olaf Olsen which took them off the rock by means of a line after another British freighter, Empire McCallum, had been unable to send a lifeboat crew ashore. In fact the lifeboat crew which was almost lost, was driven ashore at another village ten miles away and left behind to be picked up later.

SHORTENED LANDING RUN OF BIG PLANES—Newly-developed four-wheel main landing gears are being installed on production-model B-36 super bombers at a San Diego airplane plant. The eight 56-inch wheels distribute the bomber's 278,000 pounds over a greater area than on two wheels and this weight distribution, coupled with shortened landing runs resulting from reversible-pitch propellers, will enable the giant six-engine bomber to utilize a greater number of airfields.

WOMAN SAVED FROM DEATH

Mrs. Mary Griffiths of Vancouver Owe Life to Presence of Mind of Motorman
VANCOUVER.—A motorman was credited last night with saving Mrs. Mary Griffiths aged 60, from death when she fell under his street car. Motorman William Robert Ken, aged 34, threw on the brakes when Mrs. Griffiths tumbled, hitting the safety strip under the front of the car and cutting off the power. Another few inches and she would have been killed. She was extricated 15 minutes later and taken to hospital where her condition was said to be fair.

Mr. King is Impressed

Canada's Prime Minister Had Honored Place at Royal Wedding
LONDON.—Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King of Canada drove by himself today from his West End hotel to Westminster Abbey to attend the Royal Wedding. His automobile did not follow the route of the royal procession but he won cheers when he was recognized outside the Abbey. Later the Prime Minister attended a reception at Buckingham Palace.

"The ceremony surpassed in solemnity and beauty anything I had expected," said Mr. King. "The voice of the Princess was 'sweet and melodious' and that of the new Prince 'strong and clear.'"

Mr. King, as next in seniority of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers, sat next to Prime Minister C. R. Attlee.

PLANE CRASH KILLS COUPLE

VANCOUVER.—Two persons were killed on nearby Lulu Island today when their small Tiger Moth plane plummeted from 300 feet to crash near the intersection of Rbd No. 8 and the Westminster Highway.

The dead are Robert Lovell, aged 25, of Penticton, and Joan Little, 18, of Vancouver, reported to be his fiancée.

Rescuers said that Miss Little, who was riding in the front cockpit, was buried under four feet of earth. Only ten feet of the plane's tail showed above the ground.

The plane got into difficulty soon after taking off for a flight to Chilliwack.

FOUR KILLED AT LEVEL CROSSING

PORT ARTHUR.—Four persons, one a child, were killed instantly and a fifth was seriously injured today when an automobile was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway train at a level crossing at Loon Lake, 28 miles east of Port Arthur.

The dead are Francis Guse and Mrs. Harold Guse of Loon Lake, Mrs. Guse's child and Kay Sully, a school teacher from Schreiber, Ontario.

Harold Guse is enroute to hospital here.

BETTY WHITE SEES PARADE

LONDON.—Sixteen-year-old Betty White of Winnipeg saw the royal wedding procession today from a fifth floor window of the Commonwealth Relations Office overlooking Whitehall.

The vantage point was arranged for personally by Prime Minister Mackenzie King for the High School girl who missed Princess Elizabeth's wedding gift reception Tuesday when her plane was delayed enroute. Ralph Maybank and Stanley Knowles, Members of Parliament for Winnipeg, had cabled Mr. King requesting him to obtain a seat in the Abbey for Miss White but this could not be arranged.

Miss White was invited to London for the reception after she had sent the Princess a gift of a pair of nylon stockings.

LINER LAUNCHED BY NEW METHOD—The Edinburgh Castle, new liner launched by Princess Margaret, is shown going down the slipway after the launching. After naming the liner, Princess Margaret pulled a lever which sent the 28,500-ton vessel down the slipway in Musgrave shipyard, Belfast, Northern Ireland, marking the first time the actual movement of a liner had been initiated from the launching platform.

PAGEANT MARKS ROYAL RITES IN HISTORIC ABBEY

Tumultuous Rejoicing As Old London Hails Happy Royal Nuptials
LONDON (CP)—Princess Elizabeth became the bride today of the newly named Duke of Edinburgh. Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England, intoned the words: "I now pronounce that they are man and wife" at 11:44 a.m. (3:44 Pacific Standard) as the bride and groom knelt before the altar in Westminster Abbey.

Standing before the gleaming gold plate of the altar, flanked by banks of flowers, the 21-year-old heiress-presumptive to the throne and her groom, the 26-year-old Duke of Edinburgh, until last night Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, exchanged vows so quietly that the words were scarcely audible to the congregation assembled.

The ceremony marked another page in Great Britain's storied history as Britons, by the hundreds of thousands, turned out on the streets of old London along the route from Buckingham Palace along the Mall and through Whitehall to witness the spectacle accompanying the marriage.

In the Abbey were nearly three thousand persons, including six Kings and six Queens.

King George gave his elder daughter in marriage with Queen Elizabeth and the eighty-year-old Queen Mother Mary watching the colorful ceremony in the ancient Abbey.

As the ceremonies came to a close, trumpets sounded a fanfare and the royal couple moved with their procession toward waiting thousands outside.

As Elizabeth and Philip passed the King and Queen the young duke bowed and his royal bride made a deep curtsy.

London crowds had stood for hours, red-nosed on cold, wet sidewalks, to roar with delight as the royal bride went by amid a glitter of cavalry in breastplates and gold-laced uniforms. Before Buckingham Palace the crowds ranged twelve deep.

Returning to the Palace, the Duke took his place beside his bride in the glittering state coach and he reached out of the window to wave at the crowds.

The Princess smiled and waved as the procession proceeded under the Admiralty Arch. Cheers kept pace with the royal coach.

Shortly afterward the King and Queen, followed by royal guests, returned to the Palace for the wedding breakfast.

Not moving the crowds hung on, awaiting a balcony appearance of the Princess and Duke.

To tumultuous cheers, the bride and bridegroom appeared on the balcony followed by the King and Queen and other members of the Royal Family.

The face of the Princess shone above her ivory satin wedding gown encrusted with thousands of pearls. She wore a diamond tiara—her mother's.

Late in the day the Royal Couple left for a honeymoon in quiet rural Hampshire, far from the noisy celebrating city.

JEW SLAY FIVE ARABS

JERUSALEM.—Police said today that ten gunmen whom they had identified as members of the Stern Gang, Jewish underground organization, had killed five Arabs near the town of Haanana last night, apparently in reprisal for assistance Arabs allegedly gave the police in trapping five of their members last week.
