WEDDING VETERAN MARRIED IN SOUTH

—A wedding of much interest was solemnized Tuesday last in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Vancouver, by Henry Eugene Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson of Horsehoe Ranch, who was united in marriage to a young woman, Winifred Conlon, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lloydminster. The bride wore a suit of turquoise blue with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The groom was in a suit of honor and grooms- men were the bride's cousin and the former attired in a smart brown wool suit with a white shirt and tie. The ceremony was officiated at the church by the Rev. G. Gower. Following the marriage a wedding breakfast was held in a private restaurant and later the happy couple left for a honeymoon in Victoria. On their return they will reside in Vancouver. Mr. Thompson, who was in the Canadian Air Force during the war is taking a course in the machine trade while his wife is a nurse at St. Paul's Hospital.

Married at Burns Lake

FRANCOIS LAKE—A wedding of widespread interest in central British Columbia was held at St. John's Anglican Church of Burns Lake last Friday afternoon when Grace Virginia Keefe of Francois Lake became the bride of John Andros O'Meara of Vanderhoof. Bride and groom are both descendants of real pioneer families and both are Second World War veterans, the bride having served with the Royal Canadian Air Force and the groom with the Royal Canadian Navy. The bride is remembered in Prince Rupert as the beautiful Miss Tweedsmuir Park at the Carnival Queen contest. Rev. A. W. Atkinson officiated. The pretty little chapel was crowded to the doors and the attendance overflowed the beautifully decorated church. The altar and chancel were a mass of wild flowers, lilies and choice house plants, artistically arranged by Mrs. Walter Wilson of Burns Lake who also presided at the organ. During the signing of the register, Phillip Kelly of Southbank rendered "O Perfect Love" in a melodious baritone. Many relatives and friends of the popular couple attended from Vanderhoof and points east. The bride was charmingly gowned in a flowing dress of white nylon velour and wore a Mary Queen of Scots headdress with a floor-length veil, caught with sprigs of myrtle for good luck. Her long train was carried by pretty little Sylvia Parting-

Execution of Phiscator Estate Makes Valuable Property Available
TERRACE — Possibility of a change of the appearance of the centre of Terrace presents itself with instructions from the executor of the Frank Phiscator estate that all local properties be offered for sale. The most important piece of land is the southeast corner of Lakelse and Kalum—the spot where the trees are and where seats accommodate those who wish to view the passing scene. This has been sought after by several business concerns who wished to make use of one of the four corners of the town hub. It is announced that this and the other properties will be offered for sealed tenders and it may be that the result will be another advance in the business set-up of the town.

The dance which followed the reception was held at the Francois Lake Farmer's Institute Hall, the Serenader's Orchestra of Burns Lake furnishing the music. R. E. Lord, Secretary of the Farmer's Institute, was master of ceremonies and started the dance off with the Wedding March, led by the bridal couple. Towards the end of the supper walk the bride threw her bouquet among a group of waiting and ambitious girls. It was caught by Agnes Noble.

ARRANGING CONVENTION

Plans For Big Event to Be Held Here a Month Hence Are Now Under Way
With the important event now little more than a month off, arrangements for the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, to be held here commencing August 6, were shown to be well in hand yesterday afternoon when the general committee on convention arrangements, W. J. Scott, chairman, was in session. It is already evident that the number of delegates and dignitaries coming to the city for the gathering will be the largest on record. They will come from all parts of central British Columbia and there will also be a strong delegation from Alaska. Co-incidental with the convention will be a display of the British Columbia Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade. L. M. Felsenthal has accepted the chairmanship of the committee making local arrangements for that event.
