And Also Enlightenment of Public About Highway's Existence

No complaint is made by George Green, local manager of the Imperial Oil Co., regarding the condition of the highway between Vancouver and Prince Rupert but he does think there is much room for improvement in the way of servicing the motor tourists and he sees opportunity for such businesses as auto camps, stopping places, eating establishments and even gas and service stations all along the

Mr. Green, who returned a the end of the week with Mrs Green from a two weeks' motor trip to Vancouver, says he met now a few people who were surprised to hear that one could drive in and out of Prince Rupert. He had maps with him and took every opportunity to spread the gospel about Prince Rupert's good road with all its adventurous charm of new scenery and territory to cover. **********
