Alaska Highway Travel Growing

DAWSON CREEK, (?)—Despite restrictions on Alaska Highway travel the movement over the road is on the increase.

In four months 1,817 cars carrying 4,896 persons made the trip over the highway from Edmonton, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police announced.

It is estimated that 5,000 vehicles and 19,000 persons will travel northward during 1947, almost double the number which made the trip last year, which, in turn, was 30 per cent over 1945.

In August, 25 cars of United States tourists were turned back because they could not obtain travel permits. In July, 60 tourist cars were turned back.

Numerous big game hunters who have arranged for services of guides living along the road have been granted permits.
