INSTRUMENTS of destruction have been brought by atomic development to the point where another war will most certainly be one of annihilation with the very possible termination of the present age of civilization. We know what two atom bombs did at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, virtually destroying two entire cities at one fell swoop and bringing proud Japan almost instantly to her knees. Two years have passed since then and who knows how atomic power may have been developed since then or what other horrors of warfare may have been contrived? Indeed, the horrors of another war are too terrible to contemplate, almost too terrifying to even think about.

It would be a terrible responsibility to precipitate another war, to fire the first gun that would release a fury of conflict containing the potential seeds of the werld's destruction. Amid the growling and alarms of the day, it is difficult to believe that any nation, even Russia, would assume such a responsibility—and such a risk.

Possibly the best assurance of peace may lie in the fear of war which must be in us all. Yet, as the conflict of idealogies continues unabated, there must be anxiety in the minds of all as to where it will end, how far it can go without exploding into terrible conflagration.

Certainly the continued thinking of war does not help to prevent it. On the other hand, it is so difficult to think of peace. The wonder is that nations still cannot settle their differences without fighting. But still there is hope that they can. Possibly, we are unduly worried with the current unpleasantness. Possibly, we hope, the lack of will to fight will save the world.

The steamer (Prince Rupert, Capt. Donald, was welcomed into port on her five hundreth voyage. During her 12 years of service, the vessel had travelled 800,434 miles and carried 151,000 passengers.

Capt. Hoomes K. Freeman of the launch Narbethong, charged with obstructing Customs Officer W. J. Nelson in performance of his duties, elected jury trial before Magistrate McClymont. He was released on $1,000 bail.

William J. Cash, who had been manager of Boith Fisheries here for five years, left to take a post in the Seattle branch of the company. He was replaced by C. A. Kirkendal of Seattle.

November 5, 1912 Superintendent G. A. McNi-

At the city council meeting announcement was made that the bank was agreeable to advance another $25,000 to be devoted to the completion of street work in Section One. The bank further intimated that, if the treasury certificates to the extent of another $25,000 could be disposed of, they would be available for this work to the extent of $50,000. A proposition was received from a Toronto firm of financiers stating that it thought that it could dispose of about $60,000 worth of 6 per cent treasury certificates at par. The firm asked for an option on them at that figure. It was decided to give them a 30 day option in which to attempt to place the certificates. The certificates covered a four-year

WE WILL REMEMBER THEM

(By REV. BASIL S. PROCKTER, St. Andrew's Cathedral) The first thing that must come upon us as we think of the Fallen is a sense of unworthiness, es-among their comrades on the field of battle. We should frequently think of the Fallen, the us by our own folly and greed Disabled and the Bereaved and, in thinking of them, should stop our everlasting comtune in no small measure those, the Fallen, the Bereaved and the Disabled.

Let us continue to fight our battles for justice, fair play and the good life with good humor and charity knowing, as think of them, that we have much more than we deserve.

It is sad as we reflect that it is too easy to forget the lads who died on the battlefield. They had only begun their lives and had made little mark on the communities in which they lived. Much more of a flurry is caused when some person full of years who has been prominent in the community passes away in the more natural manner.

It is idle, unfortunately, to say of the Fallen that their name lives for evermore . . . so far as
