Quick Action Saved Fraser Street Apartment from Fire

Quick action and cool thinking by 14 year old Donna Petroff probably saved the Clinton Apartments on Fraser Street from destruction Wednesday night when fire, apparently started by a discarded cigarette or match dropped in the wooden fuel box Jewish city of Tel Aviv today beside the kitchen range, caused considerable damage to the kitchen of L. D. McPhee's threeroom suite.

Donna and a young friend were sitting on the steps leading from Fraser Street to Bordem Street at about 9:15 Wednesday evening when they smelled smoke and noticed it was coming from the apartment across the street. Donna tried to enter the building by the main the province. THE WEATHER

Synopsis

Skies cleared rapidly with the passage of yesterday's weather system. Winds along the coast reached 30 to 40 miles per hour Employment during the afternoon. Clear skies and light winds overnight dropped the temperatures much as 15 degrees in the coastal area. Temperatures fell to below freezing in the Cariboo and interior regions to the north. A developing storm this morning four hundred miles west of the Queen Charlottes is causing have its feet more solidly on the overcast skies over the north of ground than any other place in tend to the southern portions of cause it is no longer dependent the province overnight with upon any one line of industry rain expected in most coastal to provide work, said E. to be plenty of work offering to take up the slack. Mining camps of Alice Arm and Stewart are calling for all the men that can be supplied. From Prince George come demands for loggers and highway workers. Employment is good in the wholesale and retail lines. Pont Edward celanese mill excavation work has taken 50 men and may require more.

Good rock men are scarce but there are carpenters now available in view of a slowdown in building due to lack of materials and high prices. There appears to be a sufficiency of office help with quite a few applications for this kind of work.

There are few unemployment insurance claims these days except for older people, some of whom are having difficulty in finding work.

Aleutian Islands Getting Attention

SEATTLE-First on the coast and geodetic survey list of work in competion of hydrographic operations will be the Aleutian Islands. There is to be similar attention given Bristol Bay, important salmon fishing area. There may be difficulty here, due to the flat shores and absence of elevations from which bearings may be taken. Another obstacle is the mirage effect peculiar to Bristol Bay in which a low shed can appear, at times, to be a large warehouse.
