JUNIOR CHAMBER TO SPONSOR GET- OUT-VOTE DRIVE

Prince Rupert citizens will be urged to register this month for the annual get-out-the-vote campaign. Deadline for registering new voters is October 31, according to provincial statute.

Carson Wallace, chairman of the get-out-the-vote committee, reported at the monthly Junior Chamber meeting last night that the annual project to register voters will take the form of widespread publicity and urged all Junior Chamber members to take an active part in it.

A plan to set up a vote registering station downtown had been forestalled by the need to have the registering form signed by a Justice of the Peace or voting at the civil elections in December by the Junior Chamber Commissioner for Oaths in the presence of the applicant.

Mr. Wallace reminded the members that new registrations will be accepted at the City Clerk's office up to October 31.

The meeting expressed satisfaction that the World Series baseball broadcasts had been released through radio station CFPR and adopted a motion that a letter of appreciation be written to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, expressing the hope that the CBC would allow the winter hockey broadcasts to be released through the local station also.

President A. P. Crawley urged individuals to send similar letters to the C.B.C. to indicate the appreciation of the community to receive such sport broadcasts.

A letter from R. B. Cousins, regional security inspector for War Assets Corporation, informed the Junior Chamber by letter that it had been decided to relax security regulations at the Seal Cove air base to permit the friends of aircraft passengers to enter the base when planes were arriving and departing.

The letter, in reply to a move made a month ago by the Junior Chamber to have the regulations relaxed, cautioned that consideration must be given to the safety of government property at the base while it is being used by the public.

October 24 was set by the Junior Chamber for a stag party which, it is planned, will be held in the Moose Hall. Arrangements were returned over to the entertainment committee.

Carlo M. Hanson reported that the public speaking and leadership class was starting its winter operations and now has an enrolment of 15. He appealed for more members for the Monday evening classes, which will be open to all young men, whether they belong to the Junior Chamber or not. R. G. Moore is class director.

RADIO AUCTION TO BE HELD AGAIN

The annual Radio Auction program will be held again this year, with proceeds to be divided equally between the Civic Centre, Salvation Army and the Junior Chamber. The committee, which will be led by James
