Looks Like Mill Will Start Soon.

It appears very likely now that the big sawmill at Seal Cove, which has been idle for the past four years, is to be reopened at an early date. It will mean a great deal to Prince Rupert—perhaps more from the standpoint of actual employment than the elevator when it gets in operation. Such a payroll is needed in the city.

With lumber market conditions improving and the outlook for demand during the coming year very promising, several concerns have had their eyes on the local plant which is strategically located from a shipping standpoint. Yesterday the Daily News carried an interesting and authoritative announcement from Vancouver that a deal had been consummated for the sale of the plant with a view to its immediate operation.

Both Mr. Smith and Mr. Bell, the principals to the purchase, are well known operators of the province with many years experience behind them. It may be expected, if satisfactory arrangements are made with the mill and railway company, that the plant will be operated by them on a large and permanent scale.

It is stated that the pulp and paper project may also be matured in connection with the mill. This has been said by prominent operators to be the logical course to follow here but it will take time to develop and, in the meantime, everybody here will be satisfied with having the plant in operation again as a sawmill. This has been hoped for a great deal lately and a number of projects have been announced during recent months but the present one seems to be the most promising of all.

Hemlock Or Fir For Elevator Here.

It is stated here that the specifications for the terminal grain elevator, construction of which is to start shortly after the first of the year, call exclusively for the putting in of fir piling. Enquiry of one local firm with a view to obtaining this variety of piling was made by one of the prospective bidders this week but the matter had to be turned over to a Vancouver dealer.

The local hemlock, it is generally conceded, is just as suitable for piling as fir is. This being the case it would seem unfortunate that the specifications do not allow for its being used. Any of the commodities to be used in the construction of the elevator should not be brought from outside if just as good can be obtained locally. Perhaps designers of the mill were not aware, when they turned out the specifications, of the suitability of the local timber.

A Gift that Increases in Value

WHAT DID YOU GIVE LAST CHRISTMAS?
 Toys for the kiddies—most of them broken by now. "Something useful" for the grown-ups—now worn out or forgotten. Cash to your employees—appreciated but soon spent. Other presents—hurriedly bought and perhaps ill-chosen. Are they remembered now?

Suppose this year you give them each a Bank Book containing an initial deposit, and urge them to add to it regularly. Could anything be more suitable?

Anyox Parent Teachers Oppose War; Urge Teaching of Music and in Favor of Bible Teaching

ANYOX, Dec. 20.—At the last regular meeting of the Anyox Parent-Teachers' Association a communication was read from the Provincial Parent-Teachers' Federation, which stated that that body had decided to present certain requests to the Educational Survey Commission, the most important being the following:

That music be placed on the list of optional subjects for matriculation;

That all children be given an opportunity to learn to sing;

That physical training, including organized and supervised playgrounds, be made an integral part of the school curriculum;

That fewer changes be made in text books and a better system of distribution be arranged.

Resolutions that were submitted by the Provincial Federation to the local association were dealt with as follows:

"Resolved that we place on record our determination to create public opinion against war by stimulating interest in the education of every boy and girl, man and woman, through the elimination, as far as possible, in the reading and observation of all the glorification of the forces of destruction as contained in text books, general literature and pictures, that they may become healthy in body, intelligent and pure in thought, desirous of living and serving in the interests of a peaceful world, and by so doing efface the conditions that lead to war." This was carried.

The resolution dealing with excessive amount of home work brought out considerable discussion. It was pointed out that the School Act recommends that not more than an hour's work be given. All agreed that this was not excessive. The value of home work in developing the personality of the child was emphasized and the assistance given by parents to children in the performing of their allotted task was strongly condemned as being an injustice to both parent and teacher. In doing their home work, pupils were thrown on their own resources to meet the difficulties encountered and the effort put forth to overcome these was an important factor in their training for the battle of life. It taught a child to think for itself.

Harmful Magazines

A resolution favoring a strict form of censorship being exercised in the matter of certain harmful magazines which were being freely sold in British Columbia and purchased by teen age boys and girls was heartily endorsed. The subject of Bible teaching in the schools also came up for discussion. The value of Bible teaching and the adoption and practice of the principles contained therein, were strongly advocated as being a solution of the problems confronting the present generation. It was the only book which held the key to the moulding of a cosmopolitan population after the most desired fashion. Through the neglect of parents the only opportunity given the majority of children to become acquainted with the literature of the book was that of the Sunday schools and these were handicapped by the short time at their disposal once a week. The Anyox Association went on record as follows:

"That the School Act be so amended as to permit of one public school period per week being allotted for Biblical instruction, when such instruction could be arranged to be given by accredited Bible teachers, independent of the school teaching staff and of ordinary educational funds."

Jas. Mitchell reported to the meeting that the privilege of using the gymnasium five afternoons a week had been given to the school children. The school concert had been postponed to January 16. The president, Mrs. McAllister, occupied the chair.

After all business was transacted, Mrs. Bert Scott served refreshments.

MOOSE HOLD SMOKER

Anyox Men Enjoy Pleasant Evening With Fraternal Order

ANYOX, Dec. 19.—The first monthly smoker of the L.O.O.M. for the present winter season was pulled off last week, and everybody partaking of the entertainment had a good time, and the monthly smoker evenings to come will be looked forward to with a great deal of eagerness by the Moose and their friends. The program was as follows: Orchestra selection, Moose Orchestra; song, Dick Laverty; recitation, Dan Bartholomew; gas can solo, Frank Larson; orchestra selection, Moose Orchestra; comic song, Red Knight; recitation, T. Brown; accordion solo with piano accompaniment, Ben Correll; and Percy Alterio; song D. Macaulay; piano solo, F. Dresser; song, Ed. Crags; orchestra selection, Moose Orchestra; song, J. Barnes; sword dance and pipe accompaniment, D. McInnes and M. McLean; song and elopement, F. Larson; recitation, J. Webster; orchestra selection, Moose Orchestra. Frank Gross was chairman for the smoker, the orchestra comprising F. Dresser, J. Barnes, S. Armstrong, H. Ward, P. Stevenard and J. Cameron. The committee for the evening were O. J. Hutchings, J. Barnes, W. Rowlandson, R. Chisholm, E. Johnson, A. McKenzie, A. Roberts, and J. Hart.

MANY CLAIMS TO VALUABLE LEGACY

Correct Use of Famous Title has Encouraged Pretenders

About the year 1880 the pioneer prospectors of British Columbia discovered a remarkable coal. After many trials and tests it was positively established that this coal represented the acme of economy, efficiency and comfort.

To this fuel they gave the new famous name of "Nanaimo-Wellingtton," representing all that was best in coal.

No sooner was it found that the public insisted on getting this Wonder Fuel than other coals were put on the market under very similar names. So much so that the public were at a loss to say which was the genuine and which the imitation. Of course it was easy after a trial—a single sack will prove it—more lasting and more powerful heat from a few shovelfuls, hardly any ash, no clinker or rock, all these points stand out when you make a practical test in furnace, fireplace, heater or cook-stove.

This famous Nanaimo-Wellingtton coal is sold only by Albert & McCaffery to whom all orders should be phoned direct.
