DAILY EDITION UNION Friday, August 8, 1924.

Opportunty. The present is a good opportunity for Prince Rupert to get started in the grain export business. Victoria is making an effort to get started. The president of her chamber of commerce in a recent press announcement uses the same argument which would apply very well to Prince Rupert, he says:

"During the next few months Victoria will share to a steadily increasing extent the business of transshipping freight from the Panama Canal route to the British Columbia mainland and Alberta. This is largely due to the new schedule of charges levied by the Vancouver Harbor Board in order to defray the enormous expenditures that have been made there.

"Today Vancouver has a surcharge on all shipping going into that port of 10 cents a ton on the tonnage of vessels, 30 cents a ton harbor dues on incoming freight, 60 cents wharfage, 65 cents handling charge, and on outgoing freight a duplication of all these charges, constituting a total cost for double transshipment in the port of Vancouver of $3.30 a ton.

Advantage Of Free Port In Shipping.

"In contrast to that situation Victoria is practically a free port, having no harbor dues and no tonnage charges on vessels, continues Mr. Schwengers. Our only charge is wharfage at the the visiting relatives. rate of 50 cents a ton and handling charge, 60 cents.

ROTARY CLUB SHOWS RESPECT TO MEMBER IN HIS BEREAVEMENT

Regular Address Cancelled Yesterday and Instead Resolution of Condolence Is Passed

At the luncheon of the Rotary regular address of the day was postponed out of respect for the late Mrs. F. G. Dawson and in place of it Rev. H. R. Grant moved a resolution of condolence with Mr. Dawson in his bereavement and submitted the draft of a letter which was referred to the executive to be forwarded. ordinary songs were omitted.

Dr. Grant said he had known Mrs. Dawson for the past ten years as friend and minister. He knew her as big hearted and generous. He spoke of the sickness which had ended so suddenly. He said he felt sure they would all enter into the bereavement. Such a life as the one they had known was bound to have a reflexive influence and make the lives of those who knew her more effective. She had lived here with her husband for sixteen years and both had become more honored and respected each year.

Dr. Kergin, president of the club, spoke of the profound sorrow with which the members had received the news. Most of them, he said, would wish to attend the funeral next Tuesday.
