LIONS ATTACK EVEN DURING THE DAY IN RHODESIAN FRONTIER

Lady Has Thrilling Experience When on Bicycle Visiting Neighbors

LONDON, May 8. — Farm houses in the bush bordering on the northern Rhodesian frontier have recently been in a state of siege owing to the activity of lions. The animals have come out of the jungle in daylight and attacked the farm animals, carrying off many of them.

In some cases the natives working on the farms have been attacked, and several have been killed. The lions are often joined by leopards and have appeared in such numbers that the settlers are forced to go about only in large groups and to keep a constant guard over their families and stock.

The wife of a railroad employee reports a thrilling adventure in this connection. Mrs. Melean left her home at Garuso on a bicycle to visit neighbors. Reaching a river she found two large lions on the bank. She was so near that she could not retreat and prepared to fight for her life, but at the first shot the animals ran. She then proceeded and shortly came across a big leopard eating an ox. The leopard also made a hasty get away, but followed Mrs. Melean for some time.

Tracked by Huge Beasts

Arriving at the farm she found it had been attacked for several weeks by the animals, and many cattle had been lost. Next day she was escorted back to her home by a neighbor and ten natives who, on leaving Mrs. Melean, found they had been tracked all the way by lions. Mrs. Melean's escape was probably due to the fact that the animals had eaten their fill of oxen.

TO LABEL WHALES VIEW TO STUDYING THEIR MIGRATIONS

LONDON, May 8.—With a view to studying the migration of the whales in connection with a movement to prevent their total extermination a system of marking is to be tried. Small darts, bearing a metal label, are to be fired from a specially designed cross-bow into the thick layer of "blubber" of the back. As this is several inches thick, and the barbs can penetrate no further, the whale will probably be unconscious that he is thus labelled. But, sooner or later, more or fewer of these "standard bearers" will be recovered. If any of such tablets are taken from animals killed in African waters during the breeding season, then the identity of the Antarctic and the African herds will be established; and in that case any legislation found necessary to protect these animals must apply to both regions.

While the whalers—almost exclusively Norwegians — profess themselves anxious not to pursue their quarry to the verge of extermination, their practice in the past, and the inroads they have made since the Antarctic fishing began, show that they must be saved from themselves. Long years ago the right-whale fishery, in the Bay of Biscay, came to an end for lack of prey. The Dundee fleets, which set out year by year for Greenland and the bays of Spitzbergen, are no longer in existence for the same reason. The grey-whale, which haunted the lagoons of California, disappeared long ago. Unless, then, something is done, and done speedily, the Antarctic fishing will share the same dismal fate.

HEART WAS SO BAD HAD TO SIT UP IN BED

Mrs. O. E. Fitzgerald, 186 Boss St., St. Thomas, Ont., writes:—"In the Fall of 1921, I was taken ill with my heart, but did not pay much attention to it. I kept on with my household duties, but seemed to become worse and worse, and finally had to call in a doctor. He said I was all run down and was a nervous wreck. And a severe pain in my chest which would move over to my heart and it became so bad I could not lie down, as when I did I had such a smothering feeling I would have to sit up in bed till it passed away.

I tried several remedies, but with no good results. Finally, I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took 7 boxes, and I am now as well as I was 30 years ago, and I am now 65 years old."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all druggists or dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WAR VETERANS HAVE ESTABLISHED FINE NEW BILLIARD HALL

A splendidly appointed billiard parlor is being established by the Great War Veterans' Association on the main floor of their club building on Third Avenue and it will be formally opened on June 16. The new room will be provided with a direct entrance from the street and other improvements on the first floor of the building are contemplated. This work completed, the entire building will be devoted to the accommodation of the Association which will then boast of quarters second to none other in a town of this size in the country. The upstairs will remain the club rooms as at present.

The billiard tables formerly used in the old Wanderers' Club have been acquired and installed by the G.W.V.A.

Sport Chat

The Sons of Canada and Great War Veterans will make their debut for the season on the football field tonight when they meet in the second game of the league series. The former are back after many consecutive successful seasons. The latter were not in the game last year. The Sons have been able to retain most of their 1924 players while the Vets will present an array of new talent fully as complete as that fielded by the Sons of England in their first game on Monday. Circumstances conspire to make the game tonight fully as attractive as the opening game and a bumper crowd of fans, it is expected, will turn out.

The teams will line up as follows:

Great War Veterans — J. Knox; C. Carney and J. Hunter; W. Hunter, W. Murray and Don Corker; V. Meagher, S. Smith, T. Ashley, J. Johnson and G. Findlay. Reserves—F. Roberts and F. Hardy.

Sons of Canada—S. Gawthorn; V. Menzies and H. Menzies; J. Marks, George Mitchell and R. B. Skinner; Les Lane, Eddie W. Smith, S. Erskine, R. McDougall, Alex. Mitchell and Harry Astoria.

There are six men on the Veterans' team who are new to the local fans—Knox, Carney, J. Hunter, W. Hunter, Corker and Ashley. W. Murray played with the Sons of Canada in 1923 and J. Johnson, G. Findlay and F. Roberts were with the Sons of England. S. Smith and F. Hardy are from last year's Grotto ranks and V. Meagher comes up from the Juniors. A good deal is being expected of the last mentioned youngster who showed up particularly well in the exhibition game last week between the Vets and the Malaspina.

The complexion of the Sons of Canada team, which will meet with this crowd of Veteran "dark horses," is largely the same as in 1923 and confident of maintaining honors which they have so consistently won in the past. Indeed, they constitute a likely looking aggregation and it is expected they will be able to give their opponents all they want to contend with. In the full back line will be the two old Canuck war horse brothers, Vic and Harry Menzies. J. Marks and George Mitchell, former Sons of Canada men, will again be in the half back section with R. B. Skinner, known better in basketball circles than soccer, taking the place of Jimmie Mitchell, the regular left half. The forwards will be chosen from Les Lane, one of the 1922 Sons of Canada team, E. Smith, Alex Mitchell and H. Astoria of last year's Canucks, S. Erskine formerly of the Grotto and R. McDougall, a new player who was a member of North Vancouver Elks' soccer team of last year. S. Gawthorne, last year's Grotto goalie, will officiate similarly for the Sons of Canada tonight.
