Value Of Hatcheries
Being Discussed.

One of the questions being discussed at present is the value of fish hatcheries. There is one located at Lakelse Lake about one hundred miles from Prince Rupert, so people of this district are vitally interested in the matter. A great deal of money has already been spent in equipment for the hatchery there as well as for those at other points in the province and the annual upkeep costs a lot. If the work is in vain it is time we knew it so that the expense may be lopped off. If the hatcheries really are efficient, they should be kept working to the limit.

While most of the men interested in fish culture declare that the work of the hatcheries is very important, many cannerymen declare they are useless. It is understood, too, that W. A. Found, director of fisheries for Canada, is not at all satisfied of the utility of the work done by the hatcheries. His opinion in regard to the value in other branches of the fisheries has been proved to be correct and it is thought possible he may be right this time. At any rate the biological board is to go into the matter thoroughly and make a recommendation to the department in regard to this matter. The meeting is being held in Ottawa on December 30 and the local member of the Board, John Dybahn, will be present on that occasion.

Norman Hapgood On Cost Of Education.

In United States as well as in Canada there is a lot of talk about the cost of education. Norman Hapgood, one of the great American editorial writers, takes the matter up and shows how futile is the discussion. He says:

"What we spent for candy in 1920, statistics tell us, equalled what we spent for what we call education. What we spent for tobacco equalled twice what we spent for education. What we spent for soft drinks at soda fountains was half what we spent for education. But we howl about the cost of schools and do not howl about candy, tobacco or soda fountain drinks.

"Better teachers, fuller school equipment, it matters not what they cost. We owe them to our children.

"And we owe them more. We owe them our own example. What we do and the lives they live with us will affect them most. Give them a chance to be useful in their childhood, to practice economy, to do for themselves. If the greatest man have usually been born in the country and later gone to the city, there is a reason. Huxley warns us not to let a child's schooling interfere with his education. It ought to have the best schooling our brains and our purses can procure. But its deepest education is in the hands of its parents."

Not Let Schooling
Interfere With Education.

That was an apt saying of Huxley's when he advised not to let schooling interfere with education. Children are sent to school primarily in order that they may acquire the mechanics of education. There they acquire the means of securing an education. They learn to read and write, the primary mechanics necessary to those about to educate themselves. They learn the primary lesson in the art of reasoning through mathematical and literary studies. The aim of the schools is not to turn out a finished product, but a human machine ready to commence the arduous task of acquiring a real education.

Always Beware Of A Finishing School.

Beware of the finishing school. It is a delusion and a snare. The school that aims to complete a child's education is working contrary to the laws of the universe. If a girl's education ends at eighteen, she is not going to be worth much to the world. Education continues throughout life and the fuller the life, the more education is required.

There is an idea in some quarters that "getting an education" will make life easier. That is wrong. The idea of education is to increase the capacity for work and so that the work may be more effective. Education enables a person to get more out of life and we always get out of life what we put into it.

If there is to be a finishing school it should commence at the age of eighty, but to talk about finishing an education at the age of seventeen or eighteen is ridiculous. That is about where it really begins, for by that time the mechanics of education should be fairly well learned and the person is ready to proceed.

MEN ARE MORE SHORT
TEMPERED THAN WOMEN

Is it so, or is it not so? Some men naturally will dispute the statement, but these same men should recollect the times they have lost their tempers when they lit the fire in the morning and it went out, leaving them to do the whole thing over again.

Fortunately this trouble can easily be eliminated. Coal is being sold today which can be ignited from paper rolled into balls. A good fire is going in a few minutes and breakfast is ready in no time.

This coal is the famous Nanaimo-Wellington, sold only by Albert & McCaffery. Every pound of it double screened—no rock or shale, no slack and very little ash. It lasts longer, gives greater heat and better service. These are some of the reasons for so many repeat orders. Be one of the many wise people. Do as they do by ordering nothing but Nanaimo-Wellington coal. Prompt and civil service. Remember the phone numbers are 116 and 564.

Lieut. Frederick Mears of the Alaska Railroad Commission arrived this morning from Seattle to study the coal handling terminals at this port. He will also traverse a portion of the G.T.P. route in order to observe construction through the mountains before leaving for the east to present the report of the commission to President Wilson.

"Do you know," he told her, "you look like a bit of rare old tapestry?"

"Indeed! Well, you're not so snappy-looking yourself!" she angrily retorted.

SHIPWRECKED FISHERMEN

Editor Daily News.

In your account of our shipwreck and the treatment we received at Massett, you neglected to say that we applied to Customs officer Martin, and were turned down cold. He would not even help us by taking our dory and compass for security. He is the same man that keeps the general store there. He told us plainly and bluntly that we could expect no help from him.

We then went to the Queen's Hotel and were told the same tale. We were tired and sore from our exertion and exposure and I tell you we felt pretty bad at the treatment we received, especially from the customs officer whose duty we thought it was to come to our aid in the circumstances. I do not think we should have got such hard treatment anywhere else in the world.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Editor Daily News.

In a recent issue of the "News" the "Man in the Moon" was made to say: "Anyway it was a nice holiday, and that was what the day was intended for." That statement is what might fairly be called reasoning from a false premise to a false conclusion.

Now let us consider the real reason for which the day was established. Our first Thanksgiving Day was proclaimed on October 9, 1879, in these words:

The Proclamation

"Whereas it hath pleased Almighty God, in His great goodness to vouchsafe to our Dominion of Canada the blessings of a bountiful and abundant harvest; many years, as the city gets no revenue directly from them.

We therefore, considering that these blessings enjoyed by our people throughout the said Dominion do call for a solemn and public acknowledgement, have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Privy Council for Canada to appoint Thursday, the sixth day of November next as a day of General Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest with which Canada has been blessed this year—and we do invite all our loving subjects throughout Canada to observe the said day of General Thanksgiving."

As the proclamation this year was issued in the identical terms of the above we can safely conclude that the reason for the institution of the day was, and is, to give an opportunity to the people of Canada to publicly acknowledge God's goodness in a bountiful harvest. This being so your premise was wrong and your conclusion equally so.

Sane Thanksgiving

We all want a sane Thanksgiving for sanity means balance, and a balanced day is one in which our spiritual, physical and social needs are catered to. This would mean that we gather publicly to gratefully acknowledge the goodness of Almighty God in His generous provision for our welfare, and then we will enjoy better all the other functions that go to make the day the "last holiday" before Christmas. The matter is not to be settled by our individual preferences. On this great question of gratitude we stand or fall together.

Sir John Williston, a great Canadian editor and publisher in a recent article says: "In proportion to the churches (God) lose their hold upon the people, the level of civilization falls." Ingratitude is one of the baser elements in our natures, and a nation that ceases to be grateful ceases to be great.
