Architect Cox Makes Report to School Trustees That Coping Absorbs Moisture

The reason for continued leaking at the Booth Memorial School was found by Architect A. A. Cox to be on account of the fire walls through the coping stones, Trustee Rochester reported to the school board last night.

Mr. Rochester stated that, together with Trustee Casey and himself, an examination had been made by Mr. Cox in compliance with his offer to the board. The Play The Game Instead Of Watching.

The best thing anyone can do is to play some kind of game. It is far better than watching a game. While it is interesting Totals 349 329-678 to witness a good contest of any kind, that sort of thing has little value to the person who watches. To take part in some sport is quite a different matter. Play some game if possible. It is worth a lot to any person to be able to do it.
