FORMER DRUGGIST OF THIS CITY IS WED IN OKANAGAN

The following account of the wedding of W. W. McGill, formerly of this city, who was here last week with his bride enroute to Alaska on a honeymoon trip, appears in a recent Vancouver paper:

Parkdale Baptist Church, West Summerland, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday, Aug. 19, when Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Elsey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Elsey, became the bride of Mr. William Weir McGill of Vancouver. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Z. L. Fash.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Ruth Dale, the bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was of ivory knife-pleated georgette trimmed with Limerick lace. Her long flowing veil was held in place by natural orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Dorothy Avery of Winnipeg, attired in orchid satin striped Canton crepe, and Miss Jean Babbit of Vancouver, in pale pink georgette. Both wore large white hats and carried shower bouquets of mauve and pink sweet peas. The groom was supported by Mr. H. N. McCorkindale of Vancouver.

A reception was held after the service at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served on the verandah. Later Mr. and Mrs. McGill left for Vancouver en route to Alaska, the bride travelling in a three-piece costume of French suede cloth heavily embroidered in silver, with hat in bright tones. Her costume was completed with a squirrel fur, the gift of the groom. On their return from Alaska they will reside in Vancouver.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. McGill of London, Ont., mother of the groom; Mrs. W. E. Avery of Winnipeg, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. F. H. Hayward of Vancouver, sister of the bride.

Pacific Milk Is Better

There is some quality of flavor in the milk produced in the Fraser Valley which excells that of any other part of the Dominion. Our climate is ideal for dairying.

The fine, rich flavor of Pacific is this natural goodness retained. Our only credit for this superiority of taste is in the improved process which retains that which nature has made.

OBJECTION TAKEN TO DOMINION LICENSES

Trappers Handicapped in Territories to North: British Columbia Pointed to as Model

EDMONTON, Aug. 23.—Northern trappers are voicing strong protests against the federal license fees, according to W. A. Taylor, formerly in charge of the Lampson-Hubbard company's post at Fort Nelson. The levy is felt to be unduly high, making it a handicap for one to earn much for the fur catch before Christmas in the Northwest Territories.

"This license is $75, while we are told that it is only $10 in British Columbia," said Mr. Taylor. "The way to develop the country is to let the white men get in, but an excessive trapping license only results in keeping them out. For instance, the license for a non-resident is $125 and that hits one man at Fort Nelson who has been on overseas military service."

Fort Nelson is one of the best fur districts in the north country, according to Mr. Taylor. In addition to being a good marten country, there are lots of lynx and foxes. During the past season, prices for lynx ranged from $14 to $15, while marten brought all the way from $18 to $22.

ARE WOMEN IN POLITICS FAIR?

Lord Banbury Declares They Use Their Sex Powers and Privileges in Parliament

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Lord Banbury, who is Sir Frederick Banbury, was among the most consistent die-hards who ever sat in the House of Commons, has lost none of his conservatism since he shifted to the House of Lords.

His Lordship stirred up a hornet's nest by declaring, in opposition to Lord Astor's bill to permit peeresses in their own right to sit in the House of Lords, that the contemplated action would lower the dignity of the upper chamber. The right which the bill would confer would affect only about a dozen peeresses, but it has always elicited strenuous opposition because of its supposed revolutionary tendency.

Did their lordships propose, Lord Banbury asked, that the body which for centuries had been a model of a parliamentary house should "lose dignity in order to secure efficiency by admitting women?"

Are Different

But what has made women of England—in politics and out of politics—mad as March hares was Lord Banbury's accusation that women made an unfair exercise of sex in their participation in politics.

"Where are we going to stop if we begin this way?" queried Lord Banbury. "Men and women are different and you cannot prevent a woman from exercising in Parliament the privilege of her sex which she had been accustomed to exercise. Women exercise their facination unwittingly, and men could not treat them as equals in Parliament."

"All nonsense," said Dorothy Jewson, Labor Member of Parliament from Norwich. "Lord Banbury has opposed all progressive measures all his life."

"The noble Lord's speech is most ungallant and had it come from any one else it might have been taken seriously," said Lady Terrington, another woman M.P.

Loss of Dignity

"There has been no loss of dignity since women came into the House of Commons," said Mrs. Wintringham, another woman member.

Lady Astor declined to make any comment on Lord Banbury's outburst. When he was in the House of Commons Lord Banbury antagonized virtually every reform measure which Lady Astor put forward and the parliamentary tilts between the venerable diehard and the vivacious American woman enlivened many sessions of the House of Commons. But they are the best of friends outside of politics, and Lady Astor asked to be excused from engaging in a controversy with an old friend.
