The only phase that is politileaf that seems to be a subject for discussion is the rapid disintegration of the Liberal party under the leadership of former Premier Asquith. His absence from the house on the evictions division, although he had spoken against the embodying clause and was known to be hostile to the measure ,has been the last stroke that has robbed the old Liberal party of the country's confidence.

May Disappear

It looks now as if the Liberal party as it was known for the last and the first twenty years of the present, would disappear, although a central group will remain out of which the long-looked for new party of anti-radicalism may emerge. The next great struggle will probably come immediately after the Easter recess when not only the resumption of trade negotiations with Soviet ing out of the report of the
