SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

COUPLE OF DOWN AND OUTS RACE WITH FATE

Picture at Westholme Tuesday Is Stirring Drama of Being Out of Work.

A young man, apparently strong, healthy and endowed by nature with grit, finds himself for some unaccountable reason a member of the great army of "down and outs." He is willing to work, but the world in the aftermath of war, reconstruction and a new order of things, compels him to walk the streets, hungry, cold and jobless.

Such a man looked for work recently in London, and found himself pretty nearly discouraged, but had been through mud and water, and a shell fire too often to yield to his desire to live willingly. Just when fate took him to the waterside, he found someone he loved worse off than himself.

Can you imagine what it means to see a being you've loved ill-treated by heartless strangers? This man did. He watched a boatload of horses being shipped to Belgium — it was the second trip for some of them, but this time there is nothing heroic about the journey. The war is over! blows and shouts are all that greet the ears of the soldier who remembered other days only too well.

Human nature can stand it no longer. Recognizing his own horse, the man dashes into a scene that bears all the earmarks of a front line attack, and rescues the animal he has driven at the front only a few years ago. "A couple of Down and Outs." Yes, but thank God down and out though they may be, days through thick and thin as in the old days they are going to run together a race with fate, and who says that better things are not in store for them?

"A Couple of Down and Outs" will be shown Tuesday only.

AGE OF DESIRE NEW PLOT AND THEME IN PICTURE FOR MIDWEEK

"Please send it on approval" is the haughty command of the well-dressed woman shopper, and the department store clerk acquiesces politely. The gown she has ordered is an expensive one, but the clerk and the head of the department are not happy over the "sale."

For they know that the next day it will be returned as unsatisfactory. But it will have been worn in the meantime at a social affair and will have assisted in keeping up the "buyer's" reputation as the possessor of an unlimited wardrobe.

This common practice on the part of a certain type of woman is shown in a vivid manner in "The Age of Desire," here for the mid-week.

Janet Loring, a poor widow with a son, craving wealth and ease, had attracted the attention of Malcolm Trask, a millionaire, and when he began to show her marked courtesies and had given an indication of his intense interest in her, the widow decided that to win him she would have to "dress the part."

So on the day she was to meet him she would order a dress and a wrap sent to her home on approval, would wear it while with him, thus eliciting many compliments, and return the garments to the store the next day. With "borrowed plumage" she won him, but there came a day of reckoning.

"GIRL SHY" WEEK AND HAROLD LLOYD COMEDY

Great Picture According to the Critics Who Ought To Know.

Variety is the spice of life, and according to Harold Lloyd, it is also the secret of success in making continuously good comedies, as the spectacled comedian has done with "Dr. Jack," "Safety Last," "Why Worry," and his latest rib wrecker, "Girl Shy." Lloyd admits that it is hard to make each successive picture entirely different from its predecessors, but that it is absolutely necessary to do so. When motion picture stars fall into a rut, it is because they persistently follow the same line of story and same type of characterization.

In "Girl Shy," Lloyd has undertaken an entirely new form of hero to portray. He is seen as a bashful, retiring apprentice who works in the small shop of a country tailor. Although terrified by the presence of the female sex, he believes he knows them thoroughly and intends that the book he is writing about his imaginary love affairs will enlighten the rest of the masculine world. It is a role that is truly full of heart interest and romance, and the type of its fun is along the lines of one of his biggest successes, "Grandma's Boy," insofar as he mingles laughter with sympathy.

This mixture of pathos and fun is one more reason why Lloyd's popularity is so universal with everyone. Naturally, getting the laughs is the first requisite of all his pictures, but he believes that they will come more readily when the audience has sympathy for the hero portrayed. This interest established, it is easy to stir movie fans to mirth through humorous situations which may surround the principal character.

FASHIONS & FOIBLES

BUTTERICK 5511

The beltless silhouette tucks itself in a trifle at the hipline in a smart frock of marine-blue serge embroidered in self-color.

THERE are two ways of wearing your hips. Either you can pass over them without notice of any kind or you can put a belt or narrow string tie around them. The beltless silhouette is usually tucked vertically at the sides, but the tucks do not nip the frock in to the waistline—they simply hold it a trifle closer to the figure. Cashmere is one of the newest wool materials for this type of frock, or if you want silk there are the satin and silk crêpes.

Is your wife wiser than you?

IF YOU read only the stock and sporting pages, and your wife is like other women, she is wiser than you. She reads the shopping news.

She likes to hear you jingle money in your pockets. She likes to stretch money to the limit, so she won't have to ask for more. She likes to shop strategically. Know what she does.

Comfortably at home in a cushiony armchair, she scans advertising columns. She compares, judges and selects the goods she desires; maps her route; with least effort and minimum time, goes direct to the planned store and buys.

She obtains what she wants at the lowest price it is offered. She is certain of full satisfaction, for she knows advertised goods live up to their claims. She saves time and steps, and returns sufficiently alert to enjoy new advertisements---and to prepare you an appetizing dinner.

These advertisements are written for your benefit too. Read them. Help her help you save.

Buying advertised products is a bond investment----not a stock speculation

A CLEANER PRINCE RUPERT

Scientists tell us that there is no such thing as rubbish nowadays. They have turned things that were formerly the most worthless waste into valuable sources of profit and employment.

Many readers will not be in sympathy with these statements as they contemplate the piles of ashes and clinkers, representing much good money all gone up in smoke. They must feel that an unnecessary proportion of their coal bill represents costly rubbish.

Fortunately the people of Prince Rupert are becoming more and more acquainted with the fact that there is a coal, guaranteed by the biggest dealers in Prince Rupert, that leaves remarkably little ash, clinker or rock, with the result that fewer trips are being made to the lanes and backyards.

This coal is callel "NANAIMO-WELLINGTON" and has been proved to be the BEST by the heavy demand that is being made daily upon the local stock.

To be sure that you are getting this same "NANAIMO-WELLINGTON" coal you should order direct from Albert & McCaffery Ltd., who are sole agents here.

Their phone numbers are 116 and 564.
