Sport Chat

John Levi, American Indian football and baseball star, will attempt to win a berth on the American Olympic team which will compete in Paris this summer. The gigantic Arapaho brave, regarded the greatest Indian athlete since the days of Jim Thorpe, will enter the preliminary Olympic tryouts at the University of Kansas stadium on May 30 and 31. The Indian has carried his 200 pounds of brawn over the 120 yard high hurdles in 0:15 2-5; over the 220 yard low hurdles in 0:25 2-5 and has high jumped six feet. He has put the 16 pound shot 43 feet 7 1/2 inches, and thrown the discus 136 feet 8 inches. He has scored firsts in intercollegiate in the javelin and is a fairly fast quarter and half miler, although he has never competed in these events. Levi so greatly values his amateur standing that he refused offers to tryout with several major league teams this spring, among them the New York Yankees, in order that he might be eligible for the Olympic games and for football next fall. The big Indian is in his early twenties. He intends to return to the gridiron next season.

Big league baseball fans will soon again be hard at their annual speculations. The Pacific Coast League started yesterday and next week the American and National League will be commencing. With a good number of shake-ups in the various line-ups having taken place during the winter—some judged at this distance for better and some for worse—there are very diverse views on the respective merits of the several teams. It is a general opinion, however, that all the
