

DELEGATES FOR CONSERVATIVES

Meeting of Association was Held Last Night But no Instructions Were Given

A meeting of the Prince Rupert Conservative Association was held last night in the Emad Hall to select delegates for the provincial election nominating convention that is to be held in the city on Friday evening. Thirty-eight delegates for the city were chosen out of the total of 60 or so for the constituency. No instructions were given by the meeting and the candidate, if one is chosen, will be the person who receives the most votes at the convention. The meeting last night was well attended and W. E. Fisher, vice-president, was in the chair in the absence of the president, R. W. Cameron.

The delegates chosen were R. W. Cameron, W. E. Fisher, A. W. Edge, W. W. Wright, W. Reid, D. C. Stuart, W. R. Love, H. A. Brown, E. A. Mann, George Hill, W. Sibbald, R. H. Shockley, J. A. Kirkpatrick, J. Laursen, Alex. Mackenzie, Archie Beattie, Geo. Leek, J. Sigmund, W. Gawthorn, Phil McDonald, George H. Munro, George D. Tite, C. H. Orme, J. C. McLennan, H. Capstick, Wright Davies, E. H. Shockley, W. J. McCutcheon, H. B. Rochester, Harry Love, G. H. Clark, Major McGregor, John May, William Mason, H. A. Philpott, Edney Hayter, Fred Scadden and W. H. Waldorf.

There is still a good deal of speculation as to who the Conservative candidate will be. The name of J. H. Thompson is prominently mentioned and, in this connection, it is significant that his name is not on the list of delegates.

J. E. Merryfield, provincial organizer for the Conservatives, is expected in the city next week. He will be on his way from the Prince George convention which takes place on May 24 to the Athol convention which will be held at Anyox on May 29.

There are dogs and dogs—pure bred and mongrels—and it is to be regretted that 99 per cent of the canines that roam the streets of Prince Rupert are of the latter type.

Instead of reducing the power of the pound keeper it is the opinion of the writer that he should not only be given full power to act but also be armed. The money that is paid out for licenses in this city is enormous. Almost every house in the town keeps a dog and some have three. It is a well known fact that at least one meat market would go out of business were it not for selling T.B. steaks to their customers for the dogs.

In the streets of Vancouver a dog is seldom seen unless it be led on a chain. On the streets of Prince Rupert you can count from fifty to one hundred any time of the day—mostly of the door-mat and wheel-barrow species. If it is not asking too much, perhaps the police, for the benefit of the public, would publish the amount taken in during the year for dog taxes.

I think also that the money paid out by the mayor for licenses might have been used to better advantage. If the owners of the animals could not afford to pay themselves, they must have been a long way from easy street.

There may come a day when people will consider it a disgrace to have a ragged haired, long eared, hob-tailed hound following at their heels but in order to keep up with the fashion, buy a full blooded pedigreed dog.

MURDERERS ATTEMPT TO COVER UP DEED

Victim of Hanging and Shooting at the Pas Identified as John Wheme

THE PAS, Man., May 22.—The man found here recently hanging from a tree with his skull crushed, and shot through the head, was identified as John Wheme, railway employe, formerly of Moose Jaw, at the coroner's inquest held today.

Credence is given to the belief that Wheme was beaten badly in a fight which ensued over a card game. Not expecting Wheme to live, and in order to cover up their deed, the assailants are suspected to have carried him from the shack in which the crime was committed and hung him to a tree. This, it is believed, was done in an effort to show Wheme had committed suicide.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF CANADIAN BORN

OTTAWA, May 22.—The net increase in Canadian-born citizens during the ten years 1911-1921 was 1,213,650, or 21.59 per cent as compared with an increase of 947,867 or 20.29 per cent in the previous decade, according to a census bulletin. Every province with the exception of Prince Edward Island showed an increase in 1921 over 1911 in the number of persons born in the province and living in Canada.

WINNIPEG MAN MURDERS AUNT

Story of Brutal Slaying of Woman is Told to Coroner's Jury

WINNIPEG, May 22.—Without hesitation, Harry Taternuk related to a coroner's jury how he had killed his aunt, Mrs. Peter Smytchesen, here recently when she interrupted him while he was in the act of robbing her home. He told of knocking the woman down, beating and kicking her, and now he tied her hands and feet, and then placed a gag in her mouth.

Following his evidence, the jury brought in a verdict that the woman's death was "due to asphyxiation caused partly or wholly by abuses at the hands of Harry Taternuk," and Crown Prosecutor R. B. Graham announced that a charge of murder would be laid tomorrow morning.

Lived by Begging

Taternuk was arrested a few hours after the murder by the city police. He had not worked for the past three years and lived mainly by street begging. The robbery, according to his evidence, netted him only $10.

During his story to the jury, Taternuk said he had entered the house while his aunt was asleep. While he was searching for money, he awakened her, and when she screamed he knocked her down, and tied her hands and feet, and placed her on the bed. "She screamed louder, and I gave her a punch in the stomach; that quieted her," he said.

Called for Water

He told of the marks she received on the face from the beatings, and declared: "I put a sheet over her to hide the sight and stuffed an end of it into her mouth. I first put the end in water to moisten it, as she had previously called for water."

Taternuk, who is married, told of going to his home and trying to sleep, but he couldn't sleep because he was wondering "whether his aunt was dead," and soon after the police arrived and arrested him.

CAIRO SHEIKS ARE STILL QUITE BUSY

Bid of $100,000 is Made for Hope Hampton, Well Known Actress

PARIS, May 22.—While in Cairo searching for local color for a novel she is writing, Hope Hampton, the actress, became the heroine of an incident in the bazaar quarter that reads like fiction.

A richly clad old Arab, whose fingers were heavily jewelled and who wore a turban in which a single great emerald coruscated, noticed her and beckoned to a shopkeeper.

The shopkeeper came up to Miss Hampton's husband and said: "Praised by Allah, my distinguished client, the Sheikh Achmed El Biar has taken an interest in you and your wife and (prepare yourself for a great joy) he is willing to take your wife."

"That may be," commented the husband coldly, "but you have yet to know whether I agree."

"But that is already understood," was the reply, "for the Sheikh is a rich man. He offers $25,000."

"Not enough," said the husband calmly. "I have just been offered $35,000." Eventually an offer of $100,000 was refused. Even then the Sheikh did not abandon hope, but sent daily offers until they left.

PATIENTS "BREAK" STRIKE AT ASYLUM

Inmates at Donegal, Ireland, Help Bring in Supplies of Food Despite Abuse

DONEGAL, May 22.—The inmates of Donegal Asylum, who have been on the verge of starvation owing to a strike of attendants, have solved the "supply" problem themselves.

Many of the able-bodied lunatics have volunteered for the dangerous work of bringing up provisions. They are oblivious to shouts of "Seab!" "Black-leg!" and other cries that assail them.

A load of groceries was being taken to the gates along a road that was lined with strikers. Two inmates of the asylum sat on tea chests on top of an open cart, while a small force of civic guards marched on either side. They faced a fusillade of abuse without turning a hair.

Even refractory patients have realized the difficulties that have been caused by the strike, and in some cases have shown abnormal tractability.

Some of the more helpless inmates have been grieving over the absence of their usual attendants. One of them, an old woman, pathetically remarked, "Faith, if they don't soon come back, we'll all go crazy."

INTO THE ATTIC

Few youngsters today ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavery. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

Without advertising, you would never know a product's worth until you had bought it.

GREAT SKYROCKET BURST ON GROUND

VIENNA, May 22.—A giant sky-rocket exploded before leaving the ground at a fire works display here, killing a woman and a child and seriously injured six persons. A number of others were hurt in the ensuing panic. The organizer of the display said the rocket had been tampered with.
