George McAfee, manager of the Big Bay mill, returned to Georgetown this afternoon after spending the day in the city on business. Mr. McAfee states that the Big Bay mill will be closed down for a week at Christmas but, if the winter continues open, ther will be no shut down thereafter.

Sport Chat

Elks and Colts, now sharing the cellar in the Senior basketball standing, will meet in tonight's league fixtures at the Elks' Home. The game may be expected to be a keenly contested one for both teams will be on their toes to gain the advantage which will place either on a fairly good basis to make things difficult for the Sons of Canada now in first place position. The Colts have yet to beat the Elks this season but they proved their mettle by winning over the Canucks last week and have a good deal of confidence that they will now be able to turn the trick with the lodge men. The Elks, of course, are figuring that they will be able to show their superiority over the Colts again. The Colts and Grotto, meeting in the Intermediate League, should also put up an interesting engagement, for league leadership is at stake. If the Colts win they will be well away on the top while, if the Grotto are victorious, they will be tied at the top with their opponents. The third game of the evening will be a Junior League affair.

What was heralded as a missionary tour on the part of the White Sox and Giant baseball teams of the United States with the avowed intention of making Europe like baseball better than it did before, did not last very long and apparently was a failure. Yet some United States baseball enthusiasts refuse to be downcast over the result and Cullen Cain, a well-known sport writer of the United States says: "American ballplayers have played in Britain before and made but little progress in introducing the game there. They may have failed again this time. But this sowing in such a soil is bound to bear fruit some day. They called the French a "fistless race." But the day came when a French boxer, in London, beat the English champ. A British baseball team winning from a World Series winner of our own land is no more impossible of the future than Carpentier's London triumph.

REPOSE NEEDED

Once a city man out of work had "hired out" to a farmer. At 4 o'clock in the morning the newly employed hired man was called to breakfast. A few minutes later the old farmer was astonished to see the man walking off down the road.

"Say! Come back and eat breakfast 'fore you go to work!" he yelled after him.

"I ain't goin' to work," the man called back. "I'm going to find a place where I can stay all night."—Tale End.
