EVER HAD ANY ARMS

PARIS, Dec. 5 .- It may be some consolation to art lovers of the Court House, and "The throughout the world, who have wondered in what position were the missing arms of the famous Venus de Milo statue in the Louvre, to learn that even the ancients themselves were perplexed on this point.

Dr .Edde, a French physician, has just made known that during la recent visit to Egypt he came in possession of a small bronze istatuette of the same period as the Venus de Milo. This statuette is an exact copy of the famous Venus, and like the original, it has no arms. Dr. Edde there-Hore concludes that the Venus de Milo never at any time had arms, Cardigans for Christmas and he believes that the sculptor trade, and $2.00. Wool when he had carved out of the stone such a divine form, gave up all idea of adding arms.

When the Venus de Milo was discovered on the island of Milo a large reward was offered to anyone who could find the arms, but in spite of extensive search, hothing was discovered. -
