Friday and Saturday at 7 and 9, and Saturday Matinee at 3.

"Thundering Dawn"

A gripping, melodramatic thriller. A stirring love story of two women, one good, the other bad, and their struggle for the soul of a man. Glamour! Romance! Tremendous sensations! Spectacular effects! A mighty typhoon, an awe-inspiring tidal wave are amongst the big scenes pictured in this colossal love drama. Crashing storms. Devastating avalanches of water-wind-lashed seas, and amidst all the fierce, primitive struggle of a woman of culture and a woman of the underworld for the soul of a human derelict. Superb cast. J. Warren Kerrigan, Anna Q. Nilsson, Tom Santschi, Edward Burns, Chas. Clary, Winifred Bryson and many others.

SPIRITS FOILED BRITISH FLYER

Natives of Urup Island Declare
Stuart MacLaren Courted
Bad Luck at Totokan
Bog

TOKIO, Sept. 19.—Ill fortune, which attended the attempt of A. Stuart MacLaren, British round-the-world aviator, and his companions to fly across the remainder of the globe after leaving Japan, is attributed by the natives of Urup Island, one of the bleak Kuriles, to the airman's own indifference to evil spirits.

When Major MacLaren's big Vickers amphibian hopped off from Toshimayo, Yotoro Island, one day in July, with Paramushiru Island, at the north of the Kurile chain, as his goal, fogs and wind compelled him to land at Totokan Bay, on the southwest coast of Urup Island. The bay is exposed, and when the wind rose Major MacLaren flew his plane a short distance inland, alighting on a body of brackish water known as Totokan Bog. In so doing, according to the sparse population of Urup Island, he courted the malevolence of evil spirits.

Totokan Bog is an ill-omened water. The natives say it is bottomless, and that no man has ever entered its water and come out alive. There is an evil female spirit, the natives believe, who makes a specialty of handsome men, and when such a one comes to the bog he "vanishes like smoke" and his body is seen no more.

Four years ago two sailors attempted to cross the bog by swimming. They were seen to reach the middle of the lake, swimming strongly, and then together went down without a sound.

Major MacLaren rested for four hours on the shores of the bog, living at an experimental fox farm maintained on the island by the Japanese Department of Agriculture and Commerce, and then hoped off on a successful flight to Paramushiru.

GYRO CLUB AS ROTARY GUEST

Will be Entertained at Dinner
Week From Thursday: Bridge
Drive After

Instead of the regular Rotary luncheon on Thursday, October 2, arrangements have been made for the Rotary Club to entertain the members of the local Gyro Club at a dinner to be followed by a bridge tournament in which all members of each club will participate.

At the luncheon there will be fifteen minute addresses by one person from each club on what seems the most feasible undertaking for the club during the coming year and whether it should be undertaken by the clubs individually or jointly. This will be followed by a short discussion by three men on either side after which the bridge will be started.

The bridge tournament is to be under the management of Col. McMordie and the general arrangements for the dinner are to be handled by George Bryant, Thomas McClymont, W. E. Williams, George Woodland and Jim Lee.

ANNUAL FALL FAIR TERRACE

Over 700 Entries at Annual Event
in Fruit Centre

The Annual Fall Fair was a great success this year. The entries were much heavier this year, there being over seven hundred entries. The ladies of the community served dinner, afternoon tea and supper and aided financially otherwise.

Miss Lauder judged the Fancy work, home cooking and school work. The entries in the latter were heavy and the fancy work exhibits were almost double.

Mr. Munro judged the field root, grains and grasses.

Mr. Murray was the judge for fruit and vegetables.

Mr. Mackie judged the live stock and Mr. Reid the poultry. The Fair Board wish to extend their thanks to the community for the generous support which was afforded them.

The dance in the evening was one of the largest ever held here. The new G.W.V.A. Hall was filled almost to capacity and the music was excellent.

The mayor said they had no prestige at all. If others were allowed to carry on that kind of business up town they would think they could come and do the same, where they could make more money.

Commissioner Montgomery said they were not dictating. He had simply used that argument to show that they must improve conditions up town instead of allowing them to become worse.

DISAGREEABLE POLICE WORK

Proprietor of Clinton Rooms Ap-pears Before Commission Regarding Recent Search

At the meeting of the police commission last night, J. Anderson, proprietor of the Clinton Rooms, Fraser Street, appeared in person to complain of the action of the police in connection with a search that was made there. It was explained that the search was made by the Dominion Police of the Indian department, complaint having been made that Indians had been getting liquor there. They were aided by Sergeant Bailey of the city force.

Sergeant Bailey and Constable Watkinson both gave evidence of the complaints that had been made of these rooms and of the search that had been made there.

One Indian was found there drunk but a white woman, who was suspected, and who had been previously convicted, although she got off on a technicality had refused to admit them. Indians were suspected of being in her room. They had not conducted themselves in any uncouth or indecent manner.

Mayor Newton said he was not presuming to tell Mr. Anderson how he should run the Clinton rooms but advised him to keep objectionable characters away.

Commissioner Montgomery said he was satisfied the officers had not exceeded their duty. He referred to the possibility of people over the line moving up town if the place was not kept clean.

Mr. Anderson commented on the fact that the people over the line seemed to have a great deal of prestige. He objected to being dictated to by the people there.

The mayor said they had no prestige at all. If others were allowed to carry on that kind of business up town they would think they could come and do the same, where they could make more money.

Commissioner Montgomery said they were not dictating. He had simply used that argument to show that they must improve conditions up town instead of allowing them to become worse.
