ELKS' MINSTRELS AT ESSINGTON

Rain Interfered With Picnic Although Many People Made Trip

While the Elks' minstrel show given at Port Essington under the management of Ben Self was a distinct success the picnic was marred yesterday by a heavy rainfall, the latter part of the celebration taking the form of a dance and general entertainment. The minstrel show was held on Saturday evening in Cunningham's Hall before a crowd of between 350 and 400 people. The program had been changed slightly from that given in the city recently. The audience was very appreciative of the many turns offered. The minstrel program, comprising songs, jokes and instrumental selections was performed by J. Mitchell, Master Bruce Stevens, W. Mitchell, W. E. Willisroft, Dick Howe, Harvey Fraser, D. Balfour, A. Astoria, L. Astoria, G. Couture, E. Sakourin, H. Astoria, J. Hatchford, Jack Cobb, Art Easson, J. Pinder-Moss, Geo. Crate, H. Seton, and Laura and Howard Frizzell. The Elks' orchestra comprised Chas. Balagno, leader; A. Mitchell, drums; K. Rood, R. Frizzell, W. H. Derry and Art Easson.

A party of about 150 people went over to Essington yesterday morning on the boats Athi, Laura F., Rosespit, Nornen and Malamute. The heavy rainfall prevented any outdoor celebrations and the Cunningham Hall was consequently crowded with picnickers who enjoyed dancing to music furnished by the Elks' orchestra and a general entertainment. The minstrel troupe returned to the city on last night's train and the picnickers returned to port on the boats at 9.30 last night.

THE MILK FIRST

We had a guest out to see one of our plants last week. She was amazed at the care the men take to see that Pacific Milk maintains its high standard of richness. Each can must yield its sample for testing. It can't be too rich, but if it drops a point below our high minimum, the lot is rejected. She was quite flattering in her remarks about the cleanliness of the place, though we keep it spotless as a matter of daily routine.

There are three postponed games from the first half to be played off and it is likely that these will be disposed of before starting in on the second time-table. The first of these postponed matches will take place this evening between Gils and the Columbus Club. The other two—Gils vs. Sons of Canada and Gils vs. Columbus Club—will be arranged for the next baseball nights.

The outdoor sport card for the week is as follows:

Tuesday—Dominion Day cup soccer final, Sons of England vs. Great War Veterans.
Wednesday—Senior Lacrosse Kajans vs. Maple Leafs.
Thursday—City League baseball, Gils vs. Sons of Canada.
