Everybody Should Advertise Rupert.

Every person an advertising agent for Prince Rupert would mean that the city would prosper. Just think of it—five thousand people sending letters to their friends which point out the best features of the place, filled with optimism for its future and not pointing out its defects and dwelling on its disabilities.

Advertising Always Pays.

Intelligent advertising always pays. There is advertising that is a dead loss. There is advertising that does not pay ten per cent on the outlay. The best kind of advertising is that of the people most interested.

British Columbia is Canada's best bet just now. It has such diversity of interest that everyone may be satisfied. The best way to advertise British Columbia and its resources and possibilities is for the people who live there to make it his individual work.

No Room Here For Doubters.

There is no room in Northern British Columbia for doubters. If a person does not think this the best part of the world for him, he should not be here. Steamboat fares are not very high and it is not very difficult to get out. The person that does not get out must remain because he thinks he can do better here than elsewhere or he likes it better than elsewhere.

Prince Rupert looks better than it ever looked before. The people are optimistic for the future. If we sometimes get a disappointment, that is only what we each get individually in our own businesses.

Want That Road To Galloway Rapids.

One thing we want badly is that road to Galloway Rapids and then we want some of the suburban property put on the market in small lots and at reasonable prices. The provincial government is doing well in having the slashing done this year. The work is being continued and it is quite heavy.

The session of the Legislature will open soon and the estimates will be prepared before that time. This is just the time to get busy on the project and back up our member in his efforts to have the work done. He is on the job but he is only one. If we make ourselves heard it will strengthen his hands and make it easier for him to get a vote for the road.

Stability Of Labor Shown By Election.

The re-election of Tom Moore as president of the Dominion Trades Council and of F. M. Draper as secretary indicates a condition of stability in labor circles which is often not suspected. These are looked upon as safe men in that they do not run off after all the new fads which are constantly being brought forward.

The condition indicated by the election to the Labor congress is a good one for Canada. In spite of after war conditions, the ranks of organized labor are well maintained and steadily look after the interests of the great mass of men who work for wages.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

THE way to get used to disappointment is to go goose hunting.

OPPORTUNITY sometimes knocks and sometimes she walks right in without saying a word.

ONE way to train the memory is to try to remember the things that worried us yesterday and that were not worth worrying about.

THERE'S one thing I'm thankful for and that is that I have forgotten much of what I learned when I was at school.

PRAIRIE roads are like women's hats. They do not stand the rain.

I SOMETIMES wonder if there were a moderation law in regard to water and everybody had to buy it at a little store on a back street, whether there would be boogleggers selling it at every second establishment.

THE wind whistles over the bay And the rain comes down in sheets, But the boys go out with their guns And nothing their ardor defeats.

The imagination works hard And the game is easy to get. Judging by the stories you hear; All of which are true you can bet.

THE only real worry I have is to know why people are foolish enough to read this foolish column.

I WOULD like to join the labor party, but if I did I should have to give up work like the other leaders do.

IT'S the little things in life that count. I draw attention to the little things while the editor writes about the big issues such as Wrangell Island.

I WANT to write something about winter but the editor says this is an optimistic paper and it does not recognize winter as a Prince Rupert institution.

O summer is a state of mind And winter is the same. Money making is a fad, And life is getting tame.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

September 22, 1914.

Events of this war are following the plans as set down in General Von Bernhardi's book: "Germany and the Next War." The success or otherwise of Germany carrying the program set down will mean victory or defeat.

Col. George Anderson, chief engineer of the marine department, is on his way north on the steamer Quadra accompanied by Capt. George Robertson who is making an inspection of northern light-houses. It is proposed to erect a new light house at Bonilla Island in Hecate Straits.

After a trip in which she completely circled the globe, the American five-masted sailing schooner Inoa is at Port Townsend. The Inoa left Vancouver a year ago with lumber for East London, South Africa.

DETECTIVES TRAIL DIARY OF LENINE

VIENNA, Sept. 22—Reports are current that the personal diary of Lenin, smuggled out of Russia, was recently offered for sale in Vienna. These documents are being trailed by Moscow secret service operators, but up to the present they have failed to find them. The apartments of several anti-Soviet Russians in Vienna, Berlin, Warsaw, and Prague have been searched, but without avail.
